City To Press For Revision Of Power Rates

Industrial Expansion of Victoria Bound Up In Assurance of Power Supply at Reasonable Rates, State City Officials; Conference With B.C.E.R. Officers to Take Place at 3.30 o'Clock To-morrow Afternoon.

The first shot in the city's case for better terms on industrial power rates will be fired at the City Hall to-morrow afternoon at a meeting of the Industrial Committee of the City Council and A. T. Goyard, vice-president of the British Columbia Electric Railway.

The cut in lighting rates made at the first of the year did not extend to power supply, the rates for which are now under review.

Mayor J. C. Pendray, Aldermen H. O. Litchfield, J. B. Clearhouse, E. S. Woodward and John Harvey will represent the city at the parley, which is expected to provide a frank discussion of the rate question from both sides.

The city's case is said to be founded on investigations carried on quietly by the industrial committee for some time past, in regard to charges for power in Victoria and in Vancouver. On this, city officials assert, the comparison favors Vancouver, with a wide divergence between the price asked for similar loads in the two cities.

The lowest industrial power rate in Vancouver is one-half cent per kilowatt hour, city officials assert, while the lowest Victoria rate for the same type of service is three times as high. It being one and one-half cents per kilowatt hour. In one specific instance, it is stated that the rate asked the Panama Pacific Grain Terminal's elevator at Ogden Point is forty per cent higher than asked from a Vancouver elevator.

WATCHING THE FUTURE
Besides the difference in rates, which the city will argue is an arbitrary one and has already had the effect of turning away new industries, the difficulty of securing quotations and an assurance of supply for new industries will also be taken up.

In its report to the council on Monday last the industrial committee intimated it was of the opinion that the British Columbia Electric Railway had reached the limit of its capacity at Jordan River, and was unwilling or unable to extend that capacity to permit of any greatly increased service. If this proved to be the case, the committee indicated it would seek other means of assuring Victoria a power supply which would permit of industrial extensions in the area.

NO COMPETITION
The city has no power to develop electric energy for sale in competition with the British Columbia Electric Railway, whose franchise expires in 1938; it is freely admitted by city officials that on the other hand the company is dependent to some extent on the city's water supply system for additional water required at the low precipitation periods of the year.

What the officials will ask for at the conference is indicated in an assurance that industrial concerns in Victoria or those wishing to locate here in future, will have their power requirements met on a reasonable basis and permit of successful growth in competition with other coast firms.

Meanwhile, the city is examining all official agreements existing between itself and the British Columbia Electric Railway, and making more particular study of their terms and life. Reports from the City Engineer and City Solicitor are expected to be laid before the meeting to-morrow afternoon.

WIRE-TAPPING
RULE IS UPHELD
U.S. Supreme Court Declines to End Use of Such Evidence at Trials

Washington, Oct. 8.—The Supreme Court of the United States to-day refused to review its five-to-four decision of last term holding evidence obtained by wire tapping could be used in criminal prosecutions.

The question was presented in three cases from Seattle, brought by Roy Olmstead and others convicted of a conspiracy to violate the federal prohibition law. The principal evidence against them was obtained by tapping telephone wires and listening to conversations alleged to have been conducted in the unlawful sale of liquor.

They contended such evidence was excluded by the fourth and fifth amendments to the federal constitution, protecting them against unlawful search and seizure and against being compelled to give evidence against themselves.

Victorville, Cal., Oct. 8.—Larry Semon, motion picture comedian, died here to-day of pneumonia.

BOMB KILLS THREE ABOARD TRAIN IN INDIA

Internal Machine Believed Prepared For Simon Commission Members

Bombay, India, Oct. 8.—Three passengers were killed and eight injured to-day at Manmad when a bomb shattered a car of a train en route to Bombay.

A newspaper correspondent reported it was believed the bomb was being taken to Bombay by anarchists to await the arrival of the Royal Commission on Indian Reforms, headed by Sir John Simon.

The commission is due at Bombay shortly.

It was reported at first that Sir Sankaran Nair, who was appointed to the Simon Commission, was on the train, and that an attempt had been made against him, but it was learned later that Sir Sankaran arrived in Bombay to-day.

CAPT. WORSNUP, KAMLOOPS, DIES

Well-known in B.C.; Formerly Was Port Warden of Vancouver

Kamloops, B.C., Oct. 8.—Captain Thomas Herbert Worsnup, F.R.G.S., sixty-three, for a long time a citizen of Kamloops and at one time Port Warden of Vancouver, died here at 4 a.m. yesterday after a long illness and much suffering, borne with the fortitude which had characterized many of the adventures of his varied and enterprising career.

Taken ill while sojourning in California last winter, Captain Worsnup determined to return here. He stayed in Vancouver in the Spring and was treated in St. Paul's Hospital. He eventually was brought to Kamloops very ill, but improved somewhat after careful attention, only to grow worse gradually until the end came.

At his own request, the body will be conveyed to Vancouver and there cremated, his Masonic Lodge being in charge of the last rites. The ashes will be scattered to the four winds above Vancouver Harbor, which he loved so well.

RENTS ADVANCE AS STORES BID FOR NEW SITES

Metropolitan Chain Store Ad-vent Starts Down Town Realty Move

Removal of local stores from the present sites has been overhauled old tenants for locations, with the result that during the next few months there will be shuffling of locations. Competition for locations has resulted in rents advancing, briskly in some cases.

Good downtown store space is now going at a premium, realtors said to-day.

Judge and Counsel In Extradition Case

Judge Hugh S. Cayley (left) in Vancouver will hear the extradition proceedings brought by the State of California for the return of Gordon Stuart Northcott, accused of the murder of boys on his farm near Riverside. Judge Cayley must decide if the evidence is sufficient to warrant Northcott's return for trial. Frank Lyons of Vancouver is counsel for young Northcott in the proceedings.

CONVICTS IN PRISON WING ARE BURNED

Seventeen Die in Dormitory Fire at Brick Plant at Ohio Institution

Junction City, Ohio, Oct. 8.—Seventeen convicts employed in the state-owned brick plant here, are believed to have perished when fire swept the dormitory, in which 275 prisoners were sleeping early to-day.

At least two of the missing prisoners were burned to death, according to Herman Blosser, assistant superintendent of the institution. He gave the names of Whiting, superintendent of the commissary and Hill, a prisoner, who refused to leave his bunk.

Eight prisoners who were seriously burned while attempting to escape from the burning building, were sent to the penitentiary hospital at Columbus.

Panic seized the terrified convicts as they were awakened to find the building in flames.

Two of the three exits were opened by guards, and there was a wild rush to escape, many being injured in the dormitory.

BROKE DOWN DOOR
The other door was battered down by prisoners, and many of them escaped through the exit opened by them.

Opening of the exits for escape created a draft which sent the flames roaring through the building, consuming everything before them.

Of the 288 prisoners employed at the brick plant, thirteen of them were "honored" men, and were not sleeping in the dormitory.

Officials believe three of the convicts escaped during the confusion. Many of the volunteers aided the guards in attempting to extinguish the fire and also in maintaining order, the prisoner volunteers establishing themselves as guards over others.

The brick plant is about three miles from this city, and there was no fire apparatus available to fight the flames. A checkup of the prisoners revealed that twenty were missing, and of these seventeen were believed to have perished in the flames.

Three of the missing are believed by officials to be in charge to have escaped from custody.

SIR LEES KNOWLES DIES
London, Oct. 8.—Canadian Press Cable—Sir Lee Knowles, author, soldier and lawyer, died to-day, aged seventy-one. He leaves no heir to the baronetcy.

LADYSMITH IS TO HAVE NEW MAYOR
Ladysmith, B.C., Oct. 8.—At a city council meeting, Mayor S. Jones tendered his resignation. He will leave the city at an early date to reside in California. He has been mayor for four years.

RAIN CAUSES POSTPONEMENT OF BALL GAME

St. Louis, Oct. 8.—The fourth world series game between the St. Louis Cardinals and the New York Yankees was postponed until to-morrow by Judge Landis, commissioner of baseball, because of rainy weather to-day.

A hard downpour shortly after 8 a.m. was followed by a drizzle with overcast skies.

The forecast was for cloudy weather this afternoon and fair to-night and Tuesday.

ANOTHER NEW OFFER FOR P.G.E.

Bid From 'Old Country' Received By Premier Over Week-end

Another new offer for the Pacific Great Eastern Railway line has been received over the week-end, Premier Tolmie said this morning.

The offer is from London and is for purchase outright, the Premier stated, but beyond that was not prepared at this time to go into further details, or to comment upon the consideration being given to the offer.

Dr. Tolmie reiterated that the Government would proceed with its plans for a complete survey of the P.G.E. and the possibilities of building up the adjacent country to feed it with business. All information that is now available will first be gathered, he said, before consideration is given to the appointment of a commission to report on the subject.

The Premier mentioned that there was a great deal of information available at the Parliament Buildings and from other sources. He did not think it would be good policy to make plans for gathering other data until this had been got together, and it had been ascertained what other information was necessary to guide the Government in making future plans for the line.

LIBRARY With Election Day In U.S. EXPERTS Month Away Prophets Say CONVENE Half States Are Doubtful

British Columbia Library Association Meets at Empress Hotel

John Ridington Reviews Organization of Canadian Association

The fifteenth annual conference of the British Columbia Library Association opened this morning at the Empress Hotel. Thirty-five delegates are in attendance, and represent the University of British Columbia, Vancouver Public Library, the Provincial Library and the Victoria Public Library.

John Hsieh, president, in his annual address, reviewed the achievements of the Association in the sixteen years it has been in existence. He believed that great developments are in prospect for library development in British Columbia, and remarked upon the spirit of co-operation and the attitude of public authorities towards library expansion.

SCHOOL LIBRARIES
Mr. Hsieh felt that progress would be most notable in the development of school libraries and aid to libraries to fill the growing public demand for important works of reference.

Mr. Hsieh considered that the British Columbia Library Association had justified its existence by securing passage by the Legislature of the Public Libraries Act, which was drawn up by officers of the Association after many years of study. He pointed out that full advantages of the Act had not yet been secured by the public, only new libraries and twenty-seven library associations having been so far formed.

The president stated that the Association eagerly awaited publication of the Library Act of the Province, recently made by C. B. Lester, of Wisconsin, on behalf of the Government and the Carnegie Foundation.

SECOND CAR CONFISCATED

Magistrate George Jay Confirms Seizure of Another "Liquor" Carrier

Making the second car seized as a result of police raids on alleged liquor-houses and bootleggers two weeks ago, Magistrate George Jay to-day ordered the automobile driven by Roy Morrison, who pleaded guilty to charges of having in his possession unsealed liquor and of selling liquor contrary to the Government Liquor Act.

The case was adjourned from last week to allow for notification of the car owners that proceedings for confiscation were in progress.

W. H. Bullock-Webster appearing for firms having a lien interest on the car, produced evidence to show that $1,863 was owing on the car, which was owned by the Eagle Taxi Company.

DISPUTES JURISDICTION
Stuart Henderson appeared for the Eagle Taxi Company, claiming the magistrate had no jurisdiction in the case following the completion of the case against Morrison at the previous hearing. The car should have been confiscated at that time, he claimed.

Police intimate that proceedings will be taken for confiscation of the third car seized during the raids, that driven by Charles Cronk, who pleaded guilty at the time to a charge of having in his possession unsealed liquor.

The case against Montague Simmons, charged as a result of the raids with keeping liquor on premises where soft drinks were sold, was adjourned this morning until Friday, Stuart Henderson appearing for the accused.

The Canadian Minister's remarks will be conveyed to audiences throughout the exhibition by amplifiers.

PRODUCE ACT APPEAL FAILS

Court Upholds Ruling Only B.C. Produce Shipments Are Controlled

Vancouver, Oct. 8.—Although Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald, in a judgment handed down in the British Columbia Supreme Court, held the Produce Marketing Act was intra vires of the Legislature of British Columbia, the judge decided the statute was not applicable to shipments outside the province.

As a result, Mr. Justice Macdonald has dismissed the Government's appeal from an acquittal by Magistrate O. E. Darling of Wong Kit in the Brighouse police court. Mr. Justice Macdonald agreed with the previously expressed view of Mr. Justice Murphy in the Chung-Chuek case that the Produce Marketing Act was intra vires of the Legislature of British Columbia.

OUTSIDE OF PROVINCE
The prosecution of Wong Kit raised for the first time the extra-provincial jurisdiction of the statute. He was brought before Magistrate Darling on two charges arising out of shipments made by him to a buyer in Calgary of two lots of potatoes. One carload went forward to Stevenson, and the other to L. B. Calgary.

Under Mr. Justice Macdonald's judgment it will be possible to evade the act by selling to brokers outside the Province who will resell to buyers in the Province. The potatoes would pass direct from the growers to the British Columbia purchasers.

H. S. Wood, K.C., and J. P. Hogg were counsel for Wong Kit, and H. B. Robertson, K.C., for the Government.

APPEALS PLANNED
Counsel are arranging to have this and the Chung-Chuek case heard by the Court of Appeal of British Columbia.

Wong Kit had been acquitted of marketing without the written permission of the Mainland Potato Direction Committee and contrary to the act. On the application of the Government, Magistrate Darling sent two cases for appeal to the Supreme Court.

"Without hesitation, I follow the judgment of Mr. Justice Murphy, in so far as it may affect the question now submitted, especially as there is a pending appeal," said the judge.

MOOSE JAW PLANE DESTROYED BY FIRE

Moose Jaw, Oct. 8.—Fire, believed to be of incendiary origin, destroyed the hangar of the Moose Jaw Flying Club along with a De Havilland Moth aeroplane on loan from the Federal Government. The loss is estimated at $7,000. The fire occurred Saturday night.

Yancey Huff, twenty-nine-year-old harvester, was arrested by city police following the fire. He is charged with "entering and theft."

Washington Star Says Its Canvass Gives Hoover 190 Electoral College Votes, Smith 102, With 51 Leaning Toward Republicans, and 101 Toward Democrats and Rest Doubtful; Democrats Claim Smith Steadily Gaining; Conservative Observers Say He Must Make Great Strides If He Is to Secure Majority.

Washington, Oct. 8 (Canadian Press).—With the presidential election a month away, political forecasters are beginning to tabulate the votes by states and the more cautious place nearly one-half the votes in the doubtful column. The Washington Star, which has been conducting an independent canvass for weeks, gives Hoover 190 out of the 531 votes in the Electoral College and Smith 102. Of the remainder, 51 votes are described as leaning toward Republican and 101 as leaning toward Democratic. Eighty-seven are merely described as doubtful.

New York, with forty-five votes, normally Republican, is said to be doubtful, but leaning toward Smith. Under the same heading are Missouri with eighteen votes, North Carolina and Tennessee with twelve each, Arizona, Nevada, and New Mexico with three each and Rhode Island with five.

The newspaper gives Hoover the edge in seven doubtful states: Kentucky, with thirteen votes, Nebraska and West Virginia with eight, Connecticut with seven, Colorado with six, South Dakota with five and New Hampshire with four.

The states now classed as sure Republican are Pennsylvania, Illinois, Ohio, California, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Idaho, Michigan, Maine, Oregon, Utah, Vermont, Washington and Wyoming. Smith is said to be sure of support from Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina, Texas and Virginia.

DOUBTFUL STATES
A number of bigger states are left in the doubtful column, with sufficient apparent swing in one direction to justify their tentative award to either party. They are Massachusetts, Minnesota, New Jersey, Wisconsin and Oklahoma, which have sixty-seven votes in the Electoral College between them. In the same debatable column are Maryland, eight votes; Delaware, three votes; Montana, four votes; and North Dakota, five votes.

The number required to elect a President is 266 votes.

The Democrats are claiming ever-growing strength in Minnesota, North Dakota, Wisconsin, Montana and Oklahoma, basing their hopes on dissatisfaction of farmers with the Republican farm relief policy as expressed openly by farmer organizations such as the Non-Partisan League.

SMITH GAINS
Comparison of current tabulations with those of several weeks ago show Smith has increased in popularity at a greater rate than his opponent, who started out with a great advantage in what appear to be safe states—seven votes in the Electoral College between them. In the same debatable column are Maryland, eight votes; Delaware, three votes; Montana, four votes; and North Dakota, five votes.

SMITH GAINS

Harbor Grace, Nfld., Oct. 8.—Commander H. C. Macdonald, who is here awaiting favorable weather for a solo flight across the Atlantic to Ireland, said to-day that unless weather conditions should improve this week he would discontinue his plans and return to England.

Commander Macdonald said he would take absolutely no chance of encountering bad weather.

STAR WITNESS IS TAKEN TO CALIFORNIA

Jessie Clark to Stay at Riverside Till Northcott Trial Comes On

Prosecution Did Not Want Her Whole Story Told at Extradition

Vancouver, Oct. 8.—Jessie Clark, star witness in the Northcott case, is in the United States to-day, having been rushed across the B.C. boundary last night by W. J. Quinn and A. L. Kelly, sheriff's officers from Riverside, California, who feared she might be subpoenaed by the defence in the extradition proceedings. She left Vancouver by automobile, boarding a train in the United States for Riverside, where she will reside with Mr. and Mrs. George Martin.

The prosecution feared that if Miss Clark were subpoenaed in extradition proceedings much of the case against Northcott could have been discovered through cross-examination.

During the last few days Miss Clark made a thirty-page affidavit of her evidence. The contents of this have not yet been divulged, but it is understood this is much the same as the evidence already given.

MANITOBA GETS BEST BOND BID

Saves Many Thousands of Dollars Compared With B.C.

Many thousands of dollars have been saved by Manitoba in its bond deal Saturday, compared with the recent private sale of bonds by the Province of British Columbia when the new Government departed from the regular procedure and sold $6,000,000 bonds without calling for tenders.

Manitoba sold $1,000,000 thirty-year 4½ per cent bonds at a price to yield the retail purchaser 4.75 per cent. In a recent sale of $6,000,000 twenty-five year 4½ per cent bonds, the Province of British Columbia had to take a much lower price, one that would yield the purchaser 4.92 per cent. The Province of Ontario sold some securities at the same time, but as they were only for one year the prices are not comparable.

British Columbia and Manitoba prices compared on the basis of the Manitoba sale, would be: Four and one-half per cent thirty-year bonds yielding 4.75, price approximately 92.45.

Four and one-half per cent thirty-year bonds yielding 4.92, price approximately 92.45.

Compared on the basis of the British Columbia sale they would be: Four and one-half per cent twenty-five year bonds yielding 4.75, price approximately 92.45.

Four and one-half per cent twenty-year-old bonds yielding 4.75, price approximately 92.45.

The Scots tongue as used by Highland gillies in some parts of the North has always been apt to confuse English sportsmen. A noble duke was supplied with the wrong kind of ammunition by his man. "What is this stuff?" he asked, testily.

"Oh," said the gillie, "that's used for shootin' ducks and such-like fowls." The peer of the realm was highly incensed until a Scottish member of the party interposed tactfully to explain that the gillie meant that the ammunition was used for shooting "ducks and such-like fowls."

Fires Take Heavy Toll Of Canada's Industries

The Victoria and District Fire Agents' Association, who are sponsoring the local "Fire Prevention Week," October 7 to 13, wish to draw the attention of the public to the fact that Canada's industries are burning up. Its wage and wealth-producing properties are being destroyed by fire. Buildings and products worth millions of dollars are annually reduced to worthless ashes. That is why the people of Canada are paying absurdly high insurance rates.

"The insurance companies know all about this destruction of wealth. They pay out huge sums because of it," says a statement issued by the agents. "They are not the losers—they make a profit on the transaction. They merely pay out the money furnished them by those who pay premiums. By carefully constructed tables they can estimate the approximate amount they will require. Those figures enable them to make out the bill."

"That bill is rendered with grim regularity. It commences, 'Your fire insurance premium is now due.' Every property-owner in Canada is as helpless before the demand as the unarmed wayfarer before the automatic of the thief.

"These premium payments pour into the giant fund that goes to reimburse the sufferers by fire. The contributions are paid because those who pay them are afraid that some day they shall need to draw upon that fund. They pay heavily in proportion as the companies estimate that 'some day' will be 'soon'."

"Are we going to continue longer in this bondage of fear? Shall the devouring greed of preventable fire rob us further of the earnings of our industry?"

"Can we stay this tremendous waste of our national wealth?"

"We can by preventing fires."

"Will you help?"

"Do not procrastinate. Act to-day. Do your share toward removing the fire hazards in your home and business. If in doubt phone the fire department for information."

organisations, although secretly armed, contended themselves with verbal broadsides.

Simultaneous gathering of the Social Democrats, who control the city of Vienna, and the Heimwehr, or Home Defence League of Christian Socialists, who control the Federal Government, presented a strange blending of a hilarious picnic and a gigantic military manoeuvre, unitedly undignified to foreigners. "Such a ludicrous affair," said one prominent United States tourist, "could occur only among gulleible Austrians."

DEMONSTRATIONS HELD IN AUSTRIA

Factions Meet in Town Near Vienna; Troops Keep Order

Wiener Neustadt, Austria, Oct. 8.—The great rival propaganda meetings of the Social Democrats and Home Defence Leagues yesterday passed without disorder under the vigilant guns of thousands of soldiers. Sixty communists who staged a demonstration here were arrested, and double that number were taken in custody at Potendorf.

Due perhaps to the awesome presence of the troops, not a shot disturbed the Sabbath quiet of this home of Austria's former kings. The two belligerent

CARRIED SHOVELS

The Home Defence Leagues, in dinky coats of olive green, juvenile knickerbockers and green bonnets from which large Tyrolean feathers protruded, contributed a distinct circus-like aspect to the affair. Although the marchers carried pickaxes, shovels and long metal lances, armed conflict was far removed that religious services were actually held.

PLAN FRUSTRATED

The precautions taken by the army and police are believed to have frustrated the plans of communists, of whom there are about 3,000 in Austria. At Potendorf Saturday night 131 were arrested while discussing subversive plans in an inn, they were cooped in freight cars for transportation to Vienna, where en route to the capital one of them pulled the emergency bell-cord of the locomotive, which brought the train to a sudden halt. This was a signal for the communists to make a dash for liberty.

The majority were recaptured and sent on to Vienna, but others escaped in the fields.

In upper Eggenendorf and Bergenland the police headed off contingents of communists who were marching in solid formation toward Wiener Neustadt.

In this city the 22,000 Heimwehr followers who had been listening for several hours to the oratory and invective of their leaders ended their meeting precisely as scheduled at noon and marched quietly off to make room for 45,000 socialists who met in the same great public square hung with the flaming red bunting.

A cordon of 3,000 armed soldiers with bayoneted rifles kept the wordy belligerents safely apart during the meetings.

While criticism continues of the government's policy of permitting these gatherings, the cost to the state has been $500,000 to maintain peace and order. Chancellor Seipel defends it all by saying the right of unrestricted political assembly in Austria must not be abridged.

MYSTERY WOMAN HIKES TO DAWSON

Lillian Alling Completes Arduous Three-months' Hike From Hazelton

Dawson, Oct. 8.—A quaint little figure with clothing tattered and torn, Lillian Alling, a "mystery woman" hiker, fought the last lap of her long journey to Dawson against a swirling snowstorm and stiff north breeze, arriving here at 11 o'clock Saturday morning in a small boat, and refusing to reveal her destination.

Miss Alling started from Hazelton in June and walked over the government telegraph line to Whitehorse, then to Stewart Crossing and finally in a small boat to Dawson. Walking through the middle of the town with a man's shoes of a different kind on each foot, tattered black coat and faded tan hat, the mystery woman caused an endless amount of comment among residents of the gold metropolis, who have been awaiting her arrival with interest all this week.

ONE MORE CALL

Miss Alling states that from Dawson she has one more place to go before returning here to seek work. She is a small, slender woman, presumably of Polish origin, with a fair command of English. Her long hike from Hazelton to Stewart Crossing, through country that would tax the resources of a veteran trail blazer, bristled her as a woman of exceptional courage and resourcefulness. Although conversant on nearly every subject, the woman refrains from any information regarding herself or the object of her unusual wilderness jaunt.

woman's cottage hospital Saturday night.

The woman, penniless and starving, presented herself on Saturday at the headquarters of an international scientific living society and asked for assistance as a member of the society. She stated that she had been fasting for some time—when admitted, said the house manager of the institution, the coroner is making an investigation.

The English sportsman became friendly with the keeper of the only store the Highland village boasted.

One day he said, "Well, Angus, I understand you're the postmaster, the shopkeeper, the justice of the peace and county councillor for this district."

"Aye, sir," replied the native. "Ye might say I'm the Mussolini of Glenlochty."

TEACHING FIELD NOT ATTRACTIVE

Professor Farr Tells Gyro Club Profession Should Be Improved

Before teachers are properly equipped to teach history and the social sciences for all children, society must face the task of making the teaching profession a more attractive field of service so that the keenest minds, the noblest hearts and the greatest spirits will be attracted to it, declared Professor E. S. Farr of the Victoria College teaching staff, in an interesting and instructive talk before members of the Gyro Club at their weekly luncheon to-day.

He said that the aim of history should be the strengthening of the present generation for leadership. It should be instructed, step by step, through the various phases of English history and given a thorough knowledge of each period. The Norman reign, the great industrial period in England and the different abuses of them should be studied by the students in the schools and colleges of Canada to-day. Professor Farr said that attention to dates and other petty facts in history were of little importance and that anyone making a study of the subject should get the general outline as to the various periods which make a civilization to-day.

TEACH THE TRUTH

"If a democratic government is to function efficiently," the speaker said, "the citizens must have training in history and government. They must learn what was done by their predecessors in order to profit by their mistakes. They should be taught, regardless of whether it proved patriotic or not," he believed, "the truth at all times," he said, "a true statement of the facts, no matter whom they favor."

WOMAN AUTOIST LOSES HER LIFE

Mrs. J. A. Fleming Dies as Result of Crash on Vancouver Street

Vancouver, Oct. 8.—Terribly injured when the auto in which she was riding with her husband crashed into a telephone pole at Cambie and Robson Streets at 2 a.m. Sunday, Mrs. J. A. Fleming, Richards Street, died in the General Hospital a few hours after the accident.

According to witnesses, the auto, which was driven by Mr. Fleming, failed to make the turn when coming from the Cambie Street Bridge, the driver apparently losing control of the steering, with the result that it traveled diagonally across Robson Street and struck the pole.

Both occupants were hurled to the sidewalk, Mr. Fleming, however, escaping with painful cuts and bruises.

FOUR MINISTERS VISIT PRAIRIES

It likely the Canadian National Railways would enter into the ownership of the Alberta Northern Railways if there was an opportunity for so doing on an equal footing with the Canadian Pacific Railway.

WILL DISCUSS IMMIGRATION

Mr. Forke is going to his farm at Pipestone, Manitoba, and before returning to Ottawa he will meet members of the Government of the prairie provinces to discuss immigration problems. He will be in Winnipeg Thursday, Regina October 15 and Edmonton October 17.

NEW FARM SCHEME

During an interview Mr. Forke said he and his associates were working out a scheme whereby Canadian boys would be aided in becoming located on farms and in that way "received the same privileges as those granted British boys brought out under the present Government's boys' scheme."

The scheme includes plans for financial assistance to Canadian boys who show themselves adapted to agricultural life.

"The idea," said Mr. Forke, "is to put Canadian boys on a level with British boys."

EULER'S TOUR

Mr. Euler, accompanied by R. W. Dredner, Commissioner of Customs, and other officials of his department, is on a general tour of inspection and will be in the West for two or three weeks.

"We will look over the whole system and if we see where we can strengthen it, we will endeavor to do so," said Mr. Euler.

He said no particular phase of the department's work was being investigated.

CAPT. WORSNOP, KAMLOOPS, DIES

BORN IN ENGLAND

Captain Worsnop was born in Halifax, England, August 28, 1865, the son of Charles and Ruth Worsnop. He took to the sea and at an early age obtained his master's certificate. He spent many years in deep-sea sailing, visiting numerous parts of the world.

At the age of thirty-two Captain Worsnop responded to the call of the Yukon and was a pioneer in many ways of the upper Yukon River. He was the first man to navigate the large type of vessel that operated during the gold rush. He organized the Bennett Lake and Klondike Navigation Company.

LIVED IN AFRICA

When thirty-seven years of age Captain Worsnop joined an exploration expedition to Central Africa. He spent three years there.

Captain Worsnop was awarded a life fellowship of the Royal Geographical Society in tribute to his work on sea and land.

During the World War Captain Worsnop was called upon to be port warden at Vancouver. He reorganized the port and did much to put it in its present position.

After the war Captain Worsnop resigned and retired to Kamloops, B.C.

Here for several years he took an active part in municipal and district affairs.

Recently he acted upon an international convention of navigation at Alexandria, Egypt.

Traveling frequently and widely Captain Worsnop was an unofficial general publicity agent of the Province at large.

Captain Worsnop married Hermance Hope Magee. They had no children.

NEW REPORT ON PEACE DISTRICT

Maj.-Gen. McRae, M.P., and A. Anderson Prepare Statement on Farm Possibilities

Edmonton, Oct. 8.—After traveling 1,500 miles in the Peace River district by boat, automobile, pack train and on foot, Maj.-Gen. A. D. McRae, M.P. for Vancouver North, spoke enthusiastically here last night of the wonderful possibilities of the country.

The trip was made by the Conservative member in connection with the colonization plan advocated by him in Parliament last session for doubling the population of the West. It was during his travels through the Peace River district that General McRae found Squadron Commander Godfrey and his lost flying companions.

TRAVELED FOR MONTH

Accompanied by Ashworth Anderson, Gen. McRae spent a month in the Peace River country.

"We entered at the back door, first visiting Fort Vermilion, and finished at Spirit River," Gen. McRae said. "As far as possible we avoided the old settled areas with which we were already familiar and devoted our time to investigating the possibilities for further settlement. We saw the country from forty miles north and east of Fort Vermilion to fifty miles north and east of Fort St. John, making the trip from Peace Crossing to Fort St. John over the old Yukon trail, which we were told had not been used for years."

Gen. McRae and Mr. Anderson then proceeded toward the Peace River Pass, west of Dawson Creek, and also east of Grande Prairie to the Sturgeon Lake country.

TALKED WITH RESIDENTS

"We took advantage of every opportunity," Gen. McRae stated, "to discuss the country with traders, trappers, packers, guides, merchants and Government officials, and by comparison with the country we had seen we endeavored to get first-hand, reliable information on the adjacent desirable agricultural country which time did not permit us to see. In all, we interviewed some 250 men in the various districts. Extensive notes were taken of the information obtained and an accurate diary kept daily of the country we passed through. It will probably take us two months to digest and map the information we have obtained, but we shall then have the most modern estimate of the agricultural possibilities of the Peace River district, arrived at on a basis which we understand has never hitherto been attempted. Until we have an opportunity to consolidate the voluminous information, I have nothing further to say about the trip except, of course, to confirm what everyone should already know, namely, that it is a great country with wonderful possibilities."

day, with the situation changed from what it was a couple of years ago. Formerly it was a case of property owners looking for tenants; now tenants are chasing the property owners.

OCCUPY WHOLE FLOOR

Metropolitan Chain Stores will eventually occupy the whole ground floor of the building on the southwest corner of Douglas and Yates Streets, it was announced. Some of the stores on the Douglas Street side have already completed arrangements to be out by November, when the Metropolitan will start to take over space and prepare for its grand opening here before the end of the year. The Dominion Bank, on the corner, however, it was explained, has a lease which runs until 1931 and may not move for some time yet.

Advent of the Metropolitan organization here means that the two buildings, covering the whole block on the west side of Douglas from Yates to View Streets, are now owned by New York chain store corporations, the other being the F. W. Woolworth Company.

The Metropolitan now operates twenty-five stores in Canada. A private trainload of bankers came up from New York a few weeks ago and made an examination of the business outlook in Canada. As a result the company is opening twenty-five more stores, including the Victoria one, in Canada between now and the end of the year. While the Woolworth Company handles 5, 10 and 15-cent lines only, the Metropolitan stores handle lines up to $1.

LIBRARY EXPERTS CON- VENE

NATIONAL ORGANIZATION

John Ridington, librarian of the University of British Columbia, and acting president of the newly formed Canadian Library Association, reviewed the steps which led to the creation of the national organization last Fall at Toronto.

Mr. Ridington pointed out that few persons are familiar with the library activities of the various provinces of Canada, more information being available about European and United States organizations.

"Ontario has an active library association, with all librarians and many well-wishers as members. What do we know of Quebec?" he asked. Montreal has a fine library building and a starved library service. McGill library school is being built up. How much do we know of the up-building of school libraries in Quebec? We hear of the library scrap in the Maritimes, not much, but enough to know there is an unpleasant situation."

Saskatchewan has a traveling library service, Alberta an extension of university classes stressing debating clubs and features lantern lectures of great benefit, Mr. Ridington remarked. He regretted the lack of co-operation between the libraries of the provinces.

"That there has been no co-operation is admitted. There have been defective systems in all provinces. It has been nobody's business to improve the situation. This had simmered for some time in the minds of some of us. Our representatives to Government have been listened to in the usual polite way, but when we went out the matters we sought to remedy were dropped and died," protested Mr. Ridington. Organization of a Canadian Library Association had been entrusted to Fred Landon of London, Ont., who had enlisted the speaker as the first president of the body as yet officially unnamed.

gestions for co-operation. These were now being received. He proposed that the new body should work "through the provincial governments the Federal Government being asked for a money grant sufficient to cover salary and office expenses for a secretary. He had hopes of support from the Federal Government."

MUCH GOOD

"Whether this Canadian Library Association will fulfill the hopes of those who fought for it is on the knees of the gods but I foresee that it will do much good," he said.

"It will never be a great national organization, but it will be a little brother to the American Library Association. We shall deal only with book service and book distribution or such matters that, as Canadians, we are bound to look after for ourselves," he forecast.

Touching upon the library survey recently carried out in British Columbia, Mr. Ridington said: "I am satisfied that study of the survey to be presented shortly will show it to be a document worthy to stand beside the best results of similar labors in the United States."

STAR WITNESS IS TAKEN TO CALIFORNIA

INTERVIEW GIVEN

Vancouver, Oct. 8.—"I'd rather be a scrubwoman in Canada than have the best job possible in California."

Shuddering at the recollection of a dreadful week spent on the Northcott ranch near Riverside, Cal., Jessie Clark, star witness in the case against the young man who stands accused of the deaths of four boys, in these words broke her long silence when on Saturday night she gave an interview to a group of newspapermen.

Jessie told of the bringing to the Riverside ranch of a big load of firewood. This, she said her grandfather informed her, was to be used to "destroy the evidence." After the cremation, he said to Jessie: "Thank God that's the end of that."

"Sanford (her brother) told me how Stewart—we always called Northcott by that name—had stood in another room and shot the Mexican boy through the heart. He is a crack shot and, firing at an angle through the open door, hit the boy in the heart. He used a .22 rifle."

LIVED IN FEAR

"We lived in deathly fear of Stewart," she continued. "Canford, my 15-year-old brother, and I slept in twin

THE KOOTENAY POWER DISPUTE

IN A PETITION WHICH THE CORPORATION of the City of Grand Forks has presented to the Government, that municipality expresses the opinion that the Cabinet has the power to authorize the West Kootenay Power and Light Company to supply all corporations, municipalities and inhabitants outside of the area of power development—within an area of fifty miles from the City of Rossland—with electrical energy legally which the Company says it has been supplying illegally.

The people of the province as a whole are naturally concerned in the dispute between the Granby Company and the Power Company and its affiliated concern, the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company, but they are much more intimately concerned in the rights and privileges of the public in its dealings with corporations in control of any of our natural resources. The petition now in the hands of the Tolmie Cabinet suggests that the provisions of The Water Classes Consolidation Act of 1897 are still in force with respect to the records and conditional and final licenses first granted under the provisions of that Act, and that an Order-in-Council passed on May 3, 1905, containing certain restrictions "may be varied, added to, altered, or amended" by the Government. It is pointed out as an alternative, moreover, that if the provisions of this Act do not apply, the authority to amend the various certificates of approval and licenses in accordance with the justice of the case rests at the present time within the discretion of the Minister of Lands under section thirty-eight of the present Water Act.

The petition lays emphasis on the fact that the situation which has arisen is one of extreme gravity, affecting as it does such a wide territory, while, in particular, it involves the health, comfort, convenience and means of livelihood of so many people. The Government is asked to take all these matters into consideration when it applies itself to the finding of a remedy for the present unsatisfactory state of affairs. The petition puts the matter frankly and it should be the duty of the Cabinet to discover without delay what authority it has. If the arguments set forth rest on a sound legal basis, the course which the Government should pursue is plain. In any event, it ought to be possible to prevent the lengthy and costly litigation which undoubtedly will be involved unless some settlement is reached quickly.

As already has been pointed out, some of the smelting business of the Granby Company is being diverted from the Trail smelter to a smelter at Tacoma as a result of the dispute in question. This is a loss to British Columbia. It means less employment here.

COLUMBUS'S CREW

IN A FEW DAYS COLUMBUS DAY WILL be celebrated. It ought to get a little more attention than it usually receives. In all history there are few more attractive figures than this lonely, out-at-the-elbows old explorer who discovered a new world. But never once in Columbus Day celebrations or at any other time is any mention made of the men who sailed with Columbus.

The history books dismiss the sailors of Columbus's fleet with a few contemptuous lines. They were dregs of Palos, it seems, collected by force and threats from waterfront dives, jails and back alleys. At sea they were unruly; once or twice they tried to mutiny. Ordinarily we pass them over with no more thought than that they were a worthless set of ruffians and loafers. Probably they are. Yet they are a fascinating set of men at that.

It is interesting to picture them there on the wharves of Palos, rounded up by the officers, looking apprehensively at the three tiny ships that were to carry them west. Every man in the crowd, no doubt, as well as most of the onlookers, believed that they were about to commence a voyage from which they would never return. Blear-eyed pot wallowers, small-time brigands and worthless sailors who could never get a ship, they must have made a sorry spectacle as they went aboard.

Then the voyage—a long succession of days and nights of terror. Ignorant, credulous men, convinced that they were under command of a madman, sailing forever to the west when anyone might know that only the edge of the bottomless pit lay there—is it any wonder they tried to mutiny? Bad food, confined quarters, inclement weather, their lot, assuredly, was not happy.

And at last the discovery—a hospitable green island rising out of the sea to prove that the admiral was no madman after all. The weeks of exploration that followed must have been highly pleasant; and on the return voyage there is no doubt the crews convinced themselves that they were, after all, very doughty, courageous fellows. Had they not sailed where no other man had dared to sail? One can easily imagine the pride with which they stalked through the streets of Palos forever after. Perhaps, at that, they were right. They did not amount to much to begin with; but they were supremely lucky in that they found a leader who could force them to be better men than fate had intended them to be. None of us can hope for greater luck than that. To find a man who can demand from you every last ounce of courage and fidelity and endurance that you possess—that is good fortune.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

THIS IS THE WEEK IN WHICH THE Canadian people are asked to ponder over the fact that property damage by fire in Canada represents an annual material loss of between $30,000,000 and $40,000,000—not including the loss of merchantable timber through forest fires. More important than this, however, is the loss of life which fire involves every year.

The proclamation of the Governor-General calls this "Fire Prevention Week." Every week, of course, should be a fire prevention week; but it is essential that one special week should be set aside each year in order that the general public may be reminded of its duty in this respect in various ways. It should not be difficult for anybody to understand the elementary principles of fire prevention. The person who uses gasoline to revive a fire in the stove is seeking trouble for himself and other people. Smouldering ashes against a wooden building may die out before they set the place on fire; but often they do not. Dirty chimneys, overheated stove pipes, carelessness with lighted matches, and thoughtlessness in many directions are responsible for much property damage and often loss of life.

Ordinary care usually is all that is required to prevent fire. Official statistics show that lack of caution is responsible in most cases. It has been proven so in the majority of forest fires. It is in our own interests to heed our ways. An annual ash heap representing more than $30,000,000 is a standing rebuke.

OUR BEEF AND U.S. TARIFFS

IN WINNIPEG, RECENTLY SENATOR McCumber of Washington declared that no matter which party won the election in the United States next month the present high tariff against Canadian products, and particularly agricultural products, would remain; in fact, he predicted that very likely it would be increased. He particularly mentioned that cattle would be included in such higher tariffs as might be imposed.

Although Senator McCumber is a most ardent high tariff advocate, we do not suppose the stock breeders of the Winnipeg district will worry very much about his reference to cattle. There is such a demand for Canadian beef cattle in the United States at the present time, and the price of meat over there is higher than it has been for many years, that the American consumer now is paying as much as he can afford for the family joint and steak. How great is the demand for Canadian beef cattle from the United States is best illustrated by the fact that our shipments of stores to Great Britain have dropped from many thousands a year to an almost negligible quantity. As a matter of fact, only about a thousand have been shipped to the Old Country in the last eighteen months. On the other hand, the value of live animals sold to the United States has grown from $6,411,992 in 1924 to just a little short of $20,000,000 for the twelve months ending last July. Of this amount more than $16,000,000 represents cattle.

"We are pretty selfish, you know," said Senator McCumber to his Winnipeg interviewer. But there is a limit to which that selfishness can be indulged by the application of tariffs. By increasing the tariff on beef cattle from Canada the next government at Washington would be adding to the cost of living in a very vital particular. As we have pointed out, the cost of meat in the neighboring republic is much higher now than it has been for many years and very much higher than it is in Canada. The American consumer may be relied upon to ask, sooner or later, why that should be.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

HOW IT SEEMS TO FALL
The New York World

Thanks to the army aviators, two persistent myths have now been disposed of. One was that a man falling through the air is subject to an indefinite acceleration of speed on account of the action of gravity. The other was that after he has fallen a certain distance he becomes unconscious, and perhaps even dies before he strikes the ground. By means of ingenious experiments with a dummy attached to a parachute it was established that the first was not true. After a man reaches the downward speed of 118 miles an hour, these experiments showed, the resistance of the air prevented him from going any faster. This, of course, was a blow to the second theory, for it has rested on the assumption that if the speed was great enough the person falling would become dizzy and perhaps he unable even to draw his breath. But the experimenters took nothing for granted. With parachutes strapped to their backs they jumped off planes and waited before pulling the rip-cord until they had been falling for the length of time that their previous experiments had shown would bring them to their maximum downward speed. This was ten seconds. At the end of that time, as they had expected, they found that they were completely in possession of themselves. They then opened their parachutes and alighted safely to report their findings.

RE VICTORIA FAIR
To the Editor.—I notice in your issue of Saturday, the report of the directors' meeting and the secretary's financial report, which is very encouraging, and all who worked so hard to make the exhibition a success. The success it proved to be, and also previous ones, are to be heartily congratulated, and the citizens of Victoria should be proud to have given the world such a fine show. The reports on the 1927 fair held by Vancouver and New Westminster showed very heavy deficits, in both cases, and when we consider the population both these cities have to draw on and compare them with the population Victoria has, it makes one think that the directors of the Victoria Fair must be possessed of nothing short of magic.

The writer has not missed visiting the Victoria Fair for the past six or seven years and each year there is noticeable improvement, but there is one thing of recent years I have missed very much and that is the fairgrounds. At one time he occupied the now Goat Building, and the last time he was to be seen in the large Horse Building, which was a better one, I think, than that time he has been missing. Why is this?

Surely we have enough dogs in Victoria and vicinity to make the dog show a success. In conversation with an old timer on this matter a few days ago, he said: "It is the dog that has put Victoria on the map; it was out to relate that dogs from Victoria can be found most anywhere on the North American continent, and also the Orient. There are very few people in the world that do not like dogs, and when he appears in the show, cleaned, washed, and trimmed to the minute, he is still a greater attraction than the show. I had the pleasure of visiting both the Vancouver and New Westminster fairs this year and found that both had special buildings for the dogs, and Vancouver has also one for cats. At both these places, it was difficult to get inside the doors owing to the number of people there, and to get the judge rings, it was out of the question, unless you were there at least half an hour before the judging commenced. I am sure the people of the Victoria fair would appreciate a dog show as much as our friends on the Mainland, and after all, the more pleasure and amusement, which principally constitutes a fair is offered, the more patronage it gets.

Saddle, trotting and stepping horses are being very fast, and it might be to the interest of the fair authorities to look around and find something to take their place. A few years ago it was a treat to watch the horses being put through their paces, both steps, saddle and trotters, and also the jumpers in the large building, now it is but a joke.

Trusting this suggestion will catch the eye of some of the worthy directors of our exhibition.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY
The Victoria Daily Times, October 8, 1903

To-day is "Children's Day" at the exhibition, and since early morning the street cars have been taxed to their capacity by the crowds of youngsters and parents journeying to the fair.

Upwards of twenty men who have been exploiting different resources of the northern part of this province were passing through the mouth of the Neill, which arrived here last evening. They were principally miners and pulp men, and they tell of new and important industries which will be started up north in the near future.

Captain Noel of the northern steamer Neill, which arrived from northern British Columbia ports last evening, has made his last trip in command of that vessel. He has resigned his position which he has held with marked success during the last three years.

Weather Forecast—Victoria and Vicinity—Moderate winds, mostly cloudy, with showers to-night or Friday.

The Victoria Trades and Labor Council held its regular semi-monthly meeting last evening. President Waters was in the chair.

In an aeroplane crash two miles west of Derby, near here yesterday, a student pilot, who had agreed to pilot the girls on a short flight, suffered a broken back and was removed to the Denver General Hospital in a critical condition. Both his legs and arms also were broken.

The plane, owned by the Rocky Mountain Air Lines Inc., equipped with dual controls, dipped suddenly to the earth when Miss Mary Begole "froze" to the forward controls. Wilson said he was helpless to regain control of the plane.

The insurance department, one of the oldest auxiliaries, is also one of its most active. Nearly 90,000 members of the order hold protection amounting to more than $121,000,000 for their families. This branch of the order has paid to widows and orphans of members more than $82,000,000 since it was founded in the year 1877.

The Pythian Sisters branch of the order has a membership of more than 300,000. The altruistic service and welfare work of this branch amounts to hundreds of thousands of dollars annually, and its membership has contributed largely to the support and furnishings of more than a score of Pythian homes for aged and orphan scattered over the country.

The Dramatic Order of the Knights of Khorassan is known as the "playground of Pythianism," and besides providing an avenue of entertainment for its membership, it has established a foundation fund of approximately $100,000 to aid worthy sons and daughters of Pythians to obtain higher education.

The order has recently organized the Princes of Syracuse, a society for boys from fourteen to twenty, and the Pythian Sisters are promoting a society for the daughters of members.

Y.M.C.A. IN ORIENT SHOWS PROGRESS
National Council Secretary Returns After Tour Through Far Eastern Countries

After an extensive tour of the Far East, during which he visited branches of the national Y.M.C.A. movement in Japan, China, Korea and the Philippines, F. S. Brockman, secretary of the national council of the organization for Canada and the United States, returned aboard the American Mail liner Presnet this morning, which arrived here this morning.

The Y.M.C.A. movement in the Orient is progressing well, Mr. Brockman said. In Japan especially, some of the most prominent men in the country are supporting it.

"As I came through Japan recently, a campaign had just been completed for the collection of $600,000. This was the balance of a fund needed for the $1,500,000 building which the Y.M.C.A. is building there. It will be the finest building of its kind in the Far East. The committee in charge is headed by Baron Socotogy with the co-operation of many prominent men, including Prince Toki Gawa, head of the Shogunate family, Viscount Goto and Viscount Shiba Sawa, one of the most prominent financiers in the country," said Mr. Brockman.

IN CHINA
In China, continued Mr. Brockman, progress has been slow during the civil disturbances, but now with military operations ceasing and a new and liberal Government in which at least four ministers are strong Christians, in power, prospects are very bright. In Korea, the remarkable movement amongst the villagers is developing, he said.

The organizations in Canada and the United States co-operate with the Far East in the movement, said Mr. Brockman, to the extent of lending secretaries to aid in organization work. Otherwise, the Oriental countries are entirely independent of the Occident in this work.

BACK FROM CONFERENCE
Also on board the Jefferson was Dr. E. W. Harvey, of the New York Y.M.C.A., who is returning from a conference of the International Missionary Alliance held at Jerusalem, just after Easter of this year. Dr. Harvey was associated in the management of the conference. He returned by way of India, Siam and the Far East, meeting Mr. Brockman in China.

Mrs. Brockman accompanied her husband.

PYTHIAN LEADER VISITING ISLAND

Victoria and Ladysmith Delegation Meet Grand Chancellor at Duncan

A large delegation of the officers and members of Far West-Victoria Lodge No. 1 of Victoria B.C., journeyed to Duncan Saturday to welcome the grand chancellor, J. A. MacKinnon, from Trail, B.C., who was making his official combined visit to Maple Lodge No. 18, Duncan, and Far West-Victoria Lodge No. 1, Victoria, B.C.

Among them were Past Grand Chancellors J. M. Huggins and John N. Frank and other prominent members of the order. Grand Representative Geo. W. Allison of Victoria, B.C., was also present.

Owing to the dance and frolic held here under the auspices of the D.O. K.K. last Thursday the grand chancellor when here on that date was not able to deliver his official address to the Victoria Lodge. It was therefore arranged that the official address should be given in Duncan Saturday. There was a large turn of members, which included a delegation from Ladysmith, B.C.

The grand chancellor in his address outlined various laws enacted by the Supreme Lodge at its recent eight-day convention in Milwaukee, Wis.

800,000 MEMBERS

The grand chancellor having returned recently from Seattle, Wash., where he attended the Grand Lodge of Washington, also gave an interesting review of the work attained by the order there. Among the remarks which may be of interest, it was stated that the order is comprised of approximately 800,000 members enrolled in over 6,000 lodges located in cities of Canada and the United States. It has four principal auxiliaries, with two branch organizations for boys and girls. The military department, or uniform rank, is maintained under the direct supervision of the supreme chancellor, and is composed of hundreds of uniformed companies over the country, and provides a military training in which the tactics are prescribed by the military department of the United States Government.

INSURANCE
The insurance department, one of the oldest auxiliaries, is also one of its most active. Nearly 90,000 members of the order hold protection amounting to more than $121,000,000 for their families. ### DR. SEDGEWICK TO OPEN SERIES

Will Deliver First Address Before University Extension Lecture Society

Arrangements have been completed for another series of university extension lectures to be held in the city during the winter with Dr. G. C. Sedgewick, of the University of British Columbia, scheduled to address an opening meeting on October 18. The full programme is as follows:
Oct. 18—Prof. G. C. Sedgewick, Ph.D., "Dante Gabriel Rossetti."
Nov. 1—Prof. H. F. Angus, B.C.L., M.A., "Foreign Criticism of American Prosperity."
Nov. 15—Prof. W. L. MacDonald, M.A., Ph.D., "King Arthur of the Poets."
Nov. 29—Prof. H. W. Hill, M.B., M.D., D.P.H., L.M.C.C., "The Philosophy of Disease and Health."
Dec. 13—(At Girls' Central School)—Prof. S. E. Beckett, M.A., "The Modern Machine and Modern Society."
Jan. 10—Prof. F. G. C. Wood, B.A., M.A., "Jane Austen."
Jan. 24—Prof. W. N. Sage, M.A., Ph.D., "The Western Movement in Canadian History."
Feb. 7—Prof. J. B. Wymann, B.A., M.Sc., A.M., Ph.D., "Intelligence."
Feb. 21—Prof. D. C. Harvey, B.A., M.A., "The Genius of Judge Haliburton."
March 7—Prof. F. H. Soward, B.A., B.Litt., "The Outlook in International Affairs."
March 21—Prof. F. H. Wilcox, A.B., Ph.D., "Thorau."
April 4—Prof. T. H. Boggs, M.A., Ph.D., "Citizenship and Public Opinion."
The lectures, with the exception of Prof. Beckett's address on December 13, will be delivered in the lecture room of Victoria College, commencing at 8.15 p.m. Membership cards may be obtained at the Public Library or at the college on the evening of the meetings.

COLLEGE "FROSH" ARE INITIATED

Bumps and bruises, grease and mud, horse hair and sticky flypaper, are some evidences of the initiation ceremonies held at Victoria College last night. The "Frosh" are still carrying around the souvenirs to show to their friends.

About seventy freshmen passed the tests imposed upon them by the sophomores at the college building. They were admitted in groups of twos and threes, bound and blindfolded and then led through a maze of intricate quizzers testing both the physical and intellectual abilities of the new students.

Surgeons, of no repute, performed operations of amazing simplicity on the huckles boys who acted as patients for face-lifting treatments and greasing activities.

One of the features of the evening was the food test to which both boys and girls were subjected. Strong tinctures of alum were forced into the unwilling mouths of some, while others attempted to digest concoctions of various forms.

The actual initiation was commenced at 6.30 p.m. and continued until 9 o'clock, when the last freshman was hoisted from a window to the grass outside the building.

Following the ceremony an informal dance was held.

Langford

A tennis team, organized by William Bickford of Colwood, visited the Langford courts on Friday afternoon and was entertained by some of the local players. Well-contested and close matches, consisting of ladies' doubles, mixed doubles and men's doubles were enjoyed. Tea was served by the home members.

The visiting team were: Rev. H. M. Bolton, Mrs. W. F. C. Johnston, Miss James W. Bickford, Mayor McLean, C. Head and P. Colclough.

The members playing for Langford were: Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Bayles, Mr. and Mrs. E. Le Guesne, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Hincks and A. N. Brown.

Mrs. Fred Blanchard, with her two children, from Seattle is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pike of "Larkall," Millstream Road.

Miss Nellie Willson has returned to Langford after a prolonged absence.

Philip H. Girling, who has been assistant fire ranger in the district during the summer months, has left for his home in Victoria.

SMART WEDDING AT CATHEDRAL THIS MORNING

Miss K. Ross, Daughter of
Brig.-Gen. J. M. Ross, Bride of Lt. C. F. Loewen, R.A.

A military wedding of wide interest was solemnized at Christ Church Cathedral this morning at 11.30 o'clock, when Rt. Rev. C. de V. Schofield, Bishop of Columbia, united in marriage Kathleen Gordon, only daughter of Brigadier-General J. M. Ross, C.M.G., D.S.O., Officer Commanding Military District No. 12, Regina, and Mrs. Ross, formerly of Work Point Barracks, Victoria, to Lieut. Charles Falkland Loewen of the 14th (Rajputana) Mountain Battery, Royal Artillery, Ambala, India, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Loewen of Vancouver, and grandson of the late Col. Falkland Warren, C.B., C.M.G.

The church had been beautifully decorated for the happy occasion by Misses Alice Cotton, Patsy Heming, Kay Clay, Anna McBride and Helen, Norah and Marion Wilson. Masses of Michaelmas daisies, dahlias, chrysanthemums and other autumn flowers were used in decoration.

Given in marriage by her father, who, like the bridegroom, best man and ushers, was in uniform, the bride made a delightful picture in her wedding gown of ivory satin, fashioned on simplest lines, with uneven hemline and long, close-fitting sleeves. Her veil was a family heirloom of beautiful old Carrickmacross lace, caught to the hair with a circlet of orange blossoms. She also wore a spray of the real blossoms from the gardens of Lady Barnard, aunt of the bridegroom, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and Ophelia roses.

The bride was unattended, little Leslie McNaughton, daughter of Brig.-General and Mrs. A. S. L. McNaughton, who was to have been a flower girl, being unable to attend owing to illness. The bridegroom was supported by Lieut. Wallace Greer, R.C.N., a former schoolmate, and the ushers were Capt. W. R. Stone, Capt. Macgregor Macintosh, Capt. Black and Capt. A. S. Parks, all of Work Point Barracks. The nuptial music was played by Harold Davis, cathedral organist.

As the bridal party left the church they passed under an archway of swords held aloft by officers of Military District No. 11.

RECEPTION AT WORK POINT

After the ceremony a reception was held in the former home of Brig.-General and Mrs. Ross, at Work Point Barracks, kindly loaned for the occasion by Brig.-General and Mrs. A. S. L. McNaughton. The reception rooms were attractively arranged with a profusion of flowers, and the young couple were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Ross, who was smartly gowned in leaf-brown chiffon velvet and crepe de Chine, embroidered in multi-colored chenille flowers and hat of leaf-brown velvet, and Mrs. Loewen, who wore a handsome tailored gown of black and white printed flat crepe with touches of pink in the design, and a becoming hat of silver.

Mrs. Stewart Turkington of Agassiz, sister of the bridegroom, was among the many guests. After the reception Lieut. and Mrs. Loewen left for the mainland, the bride traveling in a simple frock of navy blue georgette, hat of navy duvetin with collar of American opossum, and becoming hat of rose-berber. They will leave later this week for a honeymoon in China, Japan and Burma, en route for Ambala, India, where the bridegroom's regiment is stationed, and where they will make their home.

Victorian Order of Nurses.—The regular monthly meeting of the Victorian Order of Nurses will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock at 251 Cook Street.

Touchees that Add Style to Dresses

By MAE MARTIN

It's amazing to see how easily out-of-style dresses are transformed by a few buttons, a little braid and the quick magic of home tinting or dyeing. Your tinting or dyeing will always delight you, if you are sure to use only true, fadeless Diamond Dyes. Tinting with them is as easy as bluing, and dyeing takes just a little more time. New colors appear like magic right over the old colors. They give all the fashionable tints and shades, with never a hint of that faded look which comes from inferior dyes. Insist on Diamond Dyes and avoid disappointment.

"Color Craft," my big new book of dollar-saving hints, will be sent you FREE. Write: Mae Martin, Diamond Dyes, Windsor, Ontario. (Adv.)

Mr. Grove was not a stranger to most of the members, he having visited Victoria two years ago with the delegates to the annual convention of the C.A.A. held that year in Vancouver. During the evening at the request of Mr. Carmichael, president of the local branch, Mr. Grove spoke at some length upon his experiences as a novelist, revealing most amazing industry and courage in the production of his books and in the search for publishers who would give them to the world. After so severe an apprenticeship which only genius of a high order could have withstood. It was gratifying to his hearers to learn that he is under contract for many years to come, and that a collection of his inspired verse, unusual examples of which he read to an appreciative audience, will appear in print in 1930. Mrs. Rathorn on behalf of the association, presented a bouquet of chrysanthemums to Mrs. Carmichael, with a charming sentiment in verse in acknowledgement of a delightful evening.

POPULAR LOCAL COUPLE UNITED AT METROPOLITAN

Miss Muriel Knott Pretty Bride of Ernest Ronald Whittington Saturday

A wedding of interest to many Victorians took place on Saturday evening at 8.30 o'clock at the Metropolitan United Church when Rev. Dr. W. J. Sippell united in marriage Muriel Alexandra, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Knott, 1345 Pandora Avenue, and Mr. Ernest Ronald Whittington, only son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Whittington, 707 Linden Avenue.

For the happy occasion the church had been artistically decorated with a profusion of flowers and autumn foliage by a number of friends of the bride and groom under the direction of Mrs. T. F. R. Oliver. At each side an arch had been erected, and for the central aisle a larger one was arranged under which the bridal party stood during the ceremony. Lighted tapers, surmounting white colonnades, gave an additional pleasing affect to the church decorations.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride entered the church to the strains of the wedding march, played by the organist, Mr. Edward Parsons. She made a beautiful picture in her wedding dress of ivory white chiffon velvet, fashioned in period style on simple lines. The sleeveless tight-fitting bodice was made with a V-shaped yoke, having a vest of silver cloth, outlined with silver lace. The skirt was shirred at the waist-line, the hem-line being formed of scallops, short in front and reaching the ankles at the back. A true lover's knot of silver ribbon, attached to the waist-line in front with a spray of orange blossoms, gave a charming touch to the wedding gown.

The traditional wedding veil was of silk embroidered net and was arranged on the head in cap shape, and held in place with a circlet of orange blossoms with clusters at either side. Her bouquet was a shower of Ophelia roses, lilies of the valley, white heather and greenery. Her only adornment was a double strand of pearls.

DAINTY ATTENDANTS

There were two bridesmaids, Miss Eleanor Haddock and Miss Eleanor Parfitt, the latter a cousin of the bride. The former wore a French frock of mauve chiffon velvet, in period style, and the latter one of similar material in a soft pink shade. Each wore a close-fitting cap of silver cloth, with silver streamers falling over the shoulders, and they carried sheaves of Michaelmas daisies, delphiniums, roses and greenery.

Little Miss Helen Parfitt made a dainty flower-girl, wearing a cream net frock over a pink and mauve slip, trimmed with rusebuds and carried a basket filled with sweetheart roses and mauve sweet peas.

The groom was supported by Mr. Kenneth McCannell, the ushers were Mr. Howard Knott and Mr. Edmond Knott of Kimberley, brothers of the bride, and Dr. Aubrey Jones of Kamloops.

During the signing of the register, Miss Dorothy Hicks sang "O Promise Me."

Following the ceremony, a large number of guests assembled at the

KUMTUKS ENTERTAINED BY MAINLAND CLUB WOMEN

Big Delegation From Victoria Enjoys Banquet, Luncheon at Grouse Mountain and Other Week-end Festivities.

Vancouver, Oct. 8.—Black, green and gold with Autumn flowers of gold and tawny shades decorated the lower dining-room of Hotel Vancouver on Saturday evening, when the annual banquet of the Vancouver Business and Professional Women's Club was held. Back of the head table were draped flags of Canada and United States, for members of business women's clubs from the country south of the line were among the honored guests. Green and gold candles in silver candelabra lighted the tables, which were banked with flowers.

Each year the Vancouver group entertains for members of sister clubs in Victoria and American cities, and about on hundred out-of-town guests were entertained on Saturday evening. Seated at the head table were the Vancouver president, Miss A. Josephine Dauphinee; honorary president, Miss Amy B. Edwards; vice-presidents, Miss Alberta Peters and Mrs. Alice Hastings; Miss E. Burroughs, Miss Maud Spencer-Smith, Miss Mima Brown, Mrs. I. Jones, Mrs. A. I. Crowe, Miss A. D. W. McAusland, Miss Olive Macken and Miss Marguerite Kerr, forming the board of directors of the club.

SPECIAL SONGS
Others at the same table were Miss Ena Pearce, toastmistress; Mrs. Winifred Stevens of New Westminster; Miss Lulu Moulton, president of Seattle club; Miss Mabel Cameron, president of Kumtuku, Victoria; Miss F. Patterson, president of New Westminster club; Dr. Florence Hoag, president of Bellingham club, and Miss Doris L. Clark, Everett.

Special music, including songs specially composed for the occasion was arranged, and a group of songs was given by Madame Jessie Randall, with selections by the club's orchestra. The latter group was under the direction of Miss Arleta Macklin, and included Mrs. A. Brock Robertson, Miss Dorothy Miller, Miss Ellen O'Brien, Miss Margaret Bennett, Mrs. Blackhall, Miss Hazel Fremlin and Miss Nancy Atkins. The menu card design was made by Miss C. Henderson, and featured tiny ivory figures as skiers tied with golden cord to a corsage bouquet of tawny flowers. Ushers for the occasion were under the direction of Mrs. Eliza Butt, and included Mrs. Anita Shrapnel, Mrs. R. Greenslade, Mrs. Eaton, Miss K. J. Alcock, Miss M. Douglas and Miss L. Carscadden.

THE TOASTS

The toast to "Our Guests" was proposed by Miss Amy Edwards, and members of visiting clubs responded. Miss Elspeth A. McLenaghan, in proposing "Greater Vancouver," mentioned the great need of success in the city, and hoped for men and women of high calibre in public office. Mrs. H. DeWolfe spoke of friendly understanding-intercourse in her response. The youth of Canada was the subject of Miss Helen Howson's toast, when she spoke of the great honors won by Vancouver athletes and the scholastic laurels at University of B.C. Miss Nea Healy responded.

Mrs. Winifred Stevens of New Westminster gave a short address on "Women Who Have Influenced Great Composers," with special reference to those who have influenced the lives of Mozart, Beethoven, Chopin, Mendelssohn, Schumann and Wagner.

KUMTUKS GROUP

The Kumtuku Club of Victoria was represented by Miss Cameron, president, Mrs. J. L. White, Mrs. Alex. Monro, and the Misses M. A. Wiegley, Dorothy Alexander, Jessie Fraser, Elsie Richardson, Mary Roberts, Mabel Unwin, Donogh, Clarice Gray, E. Gray, Kate Donogh, Clarice Gray, E. Pogson, Ormiston and Kate McLaren.

SUNDAY BUSY DAY

On Sunday the guests were driven to Grouse Mountain chalet for luncheon, which was followed by a round-table discussion on "The International Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs."

The guests were later taken to the clubrooms for afternoon tea, when the table was presided over by charter members of the club and past presidents. Readings were given by Mrs. A. M. Holder, Miss Ethel Pipes and Miss Mima Brown, assisted by their committees, have charge of the week-end arrangements.

Dr. O. M. Jones Chapter—The Dr. O. M. Jones Chapter, I.O.D.E., will hold its monthly meeting in the headquarters, Union Building, on Tuesday at 8 o'clock.

A RECENT BRIDE

Mrs. Frances J. White, formerly Miss Grace Beckwith, whose marriage took place at First Baptist Church on Monday, October 1.

Dread Messenger of Misery

You can avoid his call!

UNDERMINING the well-being of millions, is that spreading plague—constipation. Men just fail to measure up because their health is below par. Women fade because faulty elimination steals away their bloom.

Heed your doctor's warning: you—everybody—must have sufficient roughage in your diet because lack of roughage is a chief cause of constipation. Eat Post's Bran Flakes regularly. You'll get the right kind of roughage in the right amount in an appetizing, tempting form.

Make this two weeks' test and note the difference

Constipation must not be neglected. Start a two weeks' test now. Order a package of Post's Bran Flakes from your grocer.

Start by eating a dish of Post's Bran Flakes for breakfast. Eat it as a cereal with milk or cream. You will like it as well as any cereal you ever tasted.

Do this every day for two weeks. We predict you will find a real difference in the way you feel, and that you have been "regular" all the time.

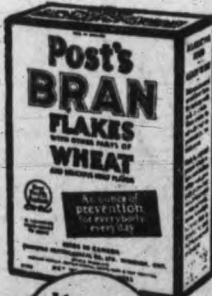

But don't stop at the end of two weeks. Eat Post's Bran Flakes every morning for health and regularity. Post's Bran Flakes is sold by all grocers in a wrapped package. Ready to eat.

It is dangerous to experiment with patent medicines and drug laxatives. They bring only temporary relief and may make matters much worse. Ordinary cases of constipation brought about by too little roughage in the diet should yield to Post's Bran Flakes. If your case is abnormal, don't experiment. Consult a competent physician.

home of the bride's parents, where the reception was held. In the drawing-room, standing beneath a bridal arch, the bride and groom received, being assisted by Mrs. Knott, who wore a smart gown of black flat crepe, ornamented with a buckle of brilliants, and a hat to match of satin and felt, and by Mrs. Whittington, who wore a gown of blue georgette with hat to match. Each wore a corsage of roses and violets.

Mrs. A. S. Huxtable and Mrs. G. W. Johnson had charge of the house decorations.

The dining-room, where supper was served, was very attractive with an arrangement of white tulle streamers suspended from the chandelier to the corners of the table, which was centred with a three-tier wedding cake surmounted with a silver vase of roses. Strwn on the tulle streamers were clusters of violets. Assisting in serving were Mrs. H. C. Fairservice, Mrs. Aubrey Jones, Mrs. Fraser Lister, Mrs. Harry Dee, Mrs. R. T. Kipling, Miss Dorothy Hicks, Miss Elsie Smith, Miss Thelma Sippell, Miss Nora Stansland, Miss Victoria Gardiner, Miss Eva Haverstock and Miss Babe McPadyen of Cumberland, Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Moore. The little Kathleen Knott and Eileen Leatham, attended the door.

The bride and groom left of California by motor, and on their return to Victoria will make their home at 1435 Richardson Street. For traveling the bride wore a two-piece frock beise crepe back satin, with hat to match, and a Shagmoor travel coat trimmed with American opossum collar.

Among the many handsome wedding gifts were silver tea service from the employees of Moore-Whittington Lumber Company Limited, of which firm the groom is a member, and a silver tray, which was presented to the bride by the staff of the North Ward School, of which she has been a teacher for the last two years.

The bride is a graduate of the Toronto Conservatory of Music.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. Eldon Knott of Kimberley, brother of the bride; the Misses Ida and Babe McPadyen of Cumberland, Dr. and Mrs. Aubrey Jones of Kamloops, and Capt. and Mrs. J. Carey of Royston.

Lake Hill Dance—The opening dance of the Winter season will be held in Lake Hill Community Hall on Wednesday evening. Ours' three-piece orchestra will supply music for dancing from nine to one o'clock. Refreshments will be served. These dances, which proved so popular last season, will be held every two weeks throughout the Winter and are under the management of the social committee, with Mr. Alex. McCallum as convener.

Tag Day Results—Saturday's tag day, held by the Dr. O. M. Jones Chapter in aid of the milk fund, realized $426. If any who were unable to give a small donation yesterday would contribute to the milk bottles, which are to be found in various shops and banks, the chapter would appreciate the offering.

Jubilee Alumnae Meeting—The Alumnae Association of the Jubilee Hospital will meet this evening at the home of Mrs. A. M. Johnson, 520 Linden Avenue.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYSTLE MEYER ELDRED

MOTHER SHOULD RECOGNIZE TYPES OF STOOLS

The stools of the healthy baby may look differently than the classic description of them would indicate and still not be a matter for concern. If the baby is sleeping well, gaining neither too much nor too little, and especially if breast fed, the mother would do well to ignore slight variations from the usual. When things are going wrong they may be valuable as indicators of what needs correction.

The stool of the breast-fed baby is yellow or light orange in color, pasty rather than formed and of inoffensive odor. Cow's milk added to the diet changes them to a darker color and lends definite form and a characteristic odor. If there is much malt sugar used in the formula they will be very dark brown.

Vegetables may appear in the stools looking much as when swallowed. When the child is on a general diet of orange juice, steamed vegetables and whole grain cereals little attention should be paid to the appearance of particles in the stools, because the diet contains indigestible material which is bound to show there.

The stool of the breast-fed baby which turns slightly olive green after standing is of small consequence. It is the watery, green stool, accompanied by fever and undeniable evidence of illness that should warn the mother of trouble.

The pale grey, stiff stool, passed with difficulty may be the result of a diet containing too much milk and not enough sugar. The addition of more sugar in the diet will usually end the difficulty. A somewhat similar stool might be caused by an excess of cream or fat in the diet.

Pink stools or diapers showing a rusty stain may indicate nothing more serious than the lack of too little water to drink. Rinse the diapers more perfectly, and increase the baby's fluid intake. If this doesn't end the trouble, better tell the doctor.

Too large an amount of sugar in the formula will probably result in foamy stools that burn the buttocks. More than six level tablespoons for any baby will likely cause a fermented stool.

Starvation stools are greenish brown in color, show much mucus and little fecal matter, and have a musty odor. The persistent vomiter (who gets little food), the child fed on small rations, because he is thought to have a "weak" stomach, the child who has recently suffered diarrhea, may have this type of stool. The breast-fed baby who is getting far less to eat than he needs may likewise exhibit this sign of starvation.

Small, bean-like curds in the stool are probably undigested protein. Bottling the baby's milk will cause them to disappear. While too much attention to the "looks" of the stools often results in useless worry, mothers should be able to recognize a definitely pathological stool so that they can take steps to correct the diet. Scrap iron is a billion dollar business

New York Yankees Wins Third Straight

Gehrig and Zachary Outstanding Stars In Wobbly Exhibition

American League Champions Rout Cardinals 7-3 in Opening Game of World's Series at St. Louis Yesterday; Gehrig Poles Out Two Home Runs and Walks Twice for Perfect Performance; Veteran Zachary Hurls Good Game; Cardinals Play Terrible Ball; 50,000 Fans Attend Game

Sportsman's Park, St. Louis, Oct. 8.—The Yankee steam roller is still going downhill, unchecked, and in its wake the fleeting hopes of the St. Louis Cardinals are flatter to-day than ever. With their clouting first baseman, Lou Gehrig, at the throttle engineering the drive with two home runs, the American League champions swept over the recumbent Cardinals for their third straight world series victory and their seventh successive triumph, a new record, in two years, over National League opposition.

The final score was 7-3, and the Yankees, with Waite Hoyt ready to pitch again, are favored to make it four straight to-day.

This was a sad and disconsolate home coming for the Redbirds and the record crowd of St. Louis rosters that jammed its way into Sportsman's Park. The throng that numbered 39,602 in paid admissions, also contributing to a record gate of $108,728 for the local field, came out to cheer Jesse Haines and the Cards in a desperate effort to stop the onrush of the gray-clad host from Gotham.

Every element of encouragement was there for the Redbirds, the home crowd, the home field and the pitcher who had beaten the Yankees twice in 1926, but it was not enough to revive the spirits of a club that has played raggedly from the start, more so yesterday than before, and that has every appearance of being as thoroughly "licked" as were the Pirates last October. After a brief thrust in the early stages, due more to loop holes in the Yankee defense, than their own efforts, the Cards tossed the game away with a wild and woolly exhibition in the sixth.

After six stormy innings, Big Jesse Haines, the sage of Philadelphia, Ohio, gave it up as a bad job and retired, along the beaten path that Sherdell and Alexander had taken before him.

The Yanks emerged triumphant yesterday behind the masterful pitching of the veteran southpaw, Tom Zachary, and because the big punch is still in the bats of Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig.

TERrible EXHIBITION
—These two enabled them to win in spite of one of the worst defensive exhibitions a world's championship club has ever given, a slipshod brand of support that has been about as reliable as an early lead and remain in the running until the sixth inning. The Yankee defense was bad enough but the Cards' fielding was worse. In the fatal sixth, when one of the most unusual of series events, a double error by the usually dependable catcher, Jimmy Wilson, contributed to the decisive three-run rally of the invaders.

Where that other old-timer, Alexander, had failed to show anything like his past worth, yesterday he came back with flying colors to win the third championship game of his thirty-one-year-old career. The veteran port-sider, who has been about the past few years, joining the Yankees only last August, twirled as craftily and as brilliantly as he did four years ago in his baffling the Giants for Washington.

The Cards collected nine hits off Zachary but at least five of those were scratchy and the Yankee infield functioned more smoothly or had Durot properly judged Bottomley's drive. Over the remaining eight innings, Zachary scattered the remaining six hits he allowed. He struck out seven Cards and yielded only one other run, tallied by Douthitt in the fifth on Andy High's double to right. Tom was tight as a bass drum in the pinches.

The Yankees were outthit, collecting only seven safe blows off the combined deliveries of Haines, Sylvester, Johnson and Flint Rhein, but again they made them count, aided and abetted by the lapses of the Card defense.

Gehrig, closing home on his first two turns at the plate, not only featured the long range attack but, by driving in, three runs and increasing to eight his total in the series. In the series, equalled the record made by his teammate, Bob Meusel, in the 1923 series.

Laruppin' Lou's spectacular start put him in position to equal or beat the performance of Ruth. He hit three homers in the same park two years ago against the Cards, but the Yankee first sacker was walked in his last two turns at bat.

A LUSTY CLOUT

Gehrig's first homer in the second inning was a lustrous clout that landed on top of the roof over the right field stands. The second came in the fourth inning, with Ruth on first by virtue of a single. It was a terrific drive that rolled to the centre field fence after Douthitt failed in a desperate attempt to make a shoestring catch. It was Gehrig's third homer of the series. The also put him within one of the record of four made by Ruth in 1926.

The Babe helping himself to two more hits and scoring a brace of runs up his sensational hitting pace. He now has gathered seven hits, including three doubles, but not yet scoring into a home run stride. The "sultan" twice hit Ruth and Gehrig, together have gathered twelve of the Yanks twenty-two hits and scored ten of their club's twenty runs.

With such an attack the Yankees didn't need much help, but they got a large helping of it voluntarily in the sixth. The Cards had just tied the score and it was anybody's game up till then, but the defense of the National League blew up with a loud detona-

VICTORIA RUGGERS DEFEATED

Drop Opening Game in Canadian Rugby League to Vancouver By 12-6 Score

Inexperience Big Factor in Victoria's Defeat; Sparking Plays Witnessed

Failing to get the ball out following their downs and inexperience on the part of the majority of their players, caused the downfall of the U.C.T. Canadian Rugby team against Vancouver at the Royal Athletic Park in the opening game of the "Big Four" League Saturday afternoon by the score of 12-6. The Victoria players were a little green and made a number of fumbles that were exceedingly costly.

The game, witnessed by a good crowd of spectators, was a good one, considering it to be the first one of the season, and a number of sparkling centre-line plunges and long end runs were seen during the afternoon. Victoria played well, but they were up against an experienced and well-drilled machine.

At no time did Victoria take the lead.

Vancouver leading 1-0 at the end of the first quarter, 2-1 at half-time and 7-1 at the conclusion of the third quarter. In the final period Victoria scored their only touchdown, but Vancouver offset this by also scoring a down.

CROWD GETS THRILL

The game opened with Victoria taking the kick-off. The crowd were given their first thrill when Seel, the pick of the Vancouver halves, got away on a lovely end rush to make a sixty-five-yard gain before he was brought down. Vancouver pressed their advantage, gaining a one-point lead when Donnelly kicked for a rouge. Victoria made good gains on two successive downs and were given another ten yards for offside. Victoria carried the ball into Vancouver's twenty-five-yard line and forced a drop goal, but failed. Vancouver obtained the ball. McAllister, one of the Victoria forwards, was injured, his place being taken by the veteran, however, took the lead on two fine plunges by Tennant and Bartow. The Mainlanders tried another rouge, but Roy Gaunt captured the ball to make a few yards before he was brought to earth. He lost the ball during the scramble to give Vancouver the advantage.

MISS CHANCE

Victoria gained possession of the ball again, but after working it down the field missed a fine chance to score when one of the outside men made a costly fumble. Play in the second quarter was more even, with both teams scoring a point. After several gains, Jack Horne brought a Vancouver player down on his own line to even up the score. Vancouver, however, took the lead once again when Tennant punted for a rouge. Half-time found the ball in the hands of the Mainlanders.

PLAYER INJURED

Early in the third quarter Victoria lost, McDonald and Hunnington for a few minutes, both being penalized for high tackling. Vancouver lost Seel, a star half, in this period, he being carried off the field after being tackled heavily. He was later taken to the hospital, but returned home Saturday night none the worse for his injuries.

McDonald and Putnam made two good gains for Victoria, but could not get across the visitors' line. Victoria lost possession and Vancouver, on three successive downs, got dangerously near to the Victoria line. Downie tried a drop goal and when Gaunt fumbled, Marsh fell on the ball for a down, counting five points. The kick for goal failed.

SCORE AGAIN

Vancouver's line played in the final quarter and it was mainly through its efforts the second down was scored. Uncovering a fine end run, Anderson went over for the Mainlanders' final point. Tennant again failed to convert the try.

Eleven points behind, the Victoria team tried to rally in the wind and worked hard for a touchdown. Jack McDonald worked like a Trojan and his efforts were rewarded when he plunged through the middle of the Vancouver line for a down; Campbell Forbes's kick for goal hit the crossbar.

For Victoria, McDonald, Horne, Putnam, Forbes, Hunnington and McMillan played well. Seel, Tennant and Donnelly were the pick of the visitors. Dick Wilson refereed while Tommy Lampan acted as umpire.

The teams were:

Vancouver—McRae, Matherson, Henderson, Downie, Bartow, Foggo, Marsh, Donnelly, Seel, Allward, Tennant and Scouse.

Victoria—Forbes, Owens, Johnson, Mawhood, McAllister, Macmurchie, Horne, Gaunt, Wightman, McMillan, Hunnington, Putnam, Newell, Gaunt, Henderson, Lennie, Pratt and De Blaquiere.

U.S. Ladies Win Second Polo Game From Calgarians

New York, Oct. 8.—The Westchester County girls' polo team defeated the representative of the Calgary Polo Club in the second match of their series, 7 to 1, yesterday. The New Yorkers had taken the first match 5 to 2.

The Canadians played head-up polo all the way, but their hitting was all awry. Seldom did they meet the ball squarely.

Big Punch In Yankees' Hitting

LOU GEHRIG

One of the reasons the Yankees have been doing so well in the world's series is the splendid hitting of their first baseman, Gehrig. In yesterday's game at St. Louis, Gehrig drove out two home runs to score three of the Yanks' seven runs. In the other two times at bat he walked. He has been hitting the ball hard throughout the series and three of his hits have been homers.

FIELDING WINS IN FINE BOUT

Hands Dave Lewis Bad Lacing and Takes Decision; Pastoro and Keist Draw

Giving away nearly five pounds, Tommy Fielding clearly demonstrated his right to the junior lightweight championship of Vancouver Island when he handed Dave Lewis a severe lacing at the Sons of Canada Hall Saturday night in their ten-round bout.

Through the fact that Lewis was unable to make the weight the title was not at stake. Lewis weighed in at 135½ and Fielding 129½. Fielding was the better man at all times, Lewis winning only two of the ten rounds, while about three of the latter put up a good fight in the early rounds but after the sixth he was never in the picture. Tommy seemed satisfied to measure his man at the start but in the last four rounds he unhooked a terrific flurry of punches that literally cut Lewis's face to ribbons.

Both fighters seemed equally popular and the crowd, one that filled the hall to capacity, were continually calling for one or the other to land a knockout punch. Lewis showed considerable improvement since he fought Fielding in Duncan but he was just not good enough to take Fielding's measure.

LEWIS CUT UP

At the conclusion of the fight Lewis clearly showed he had taken a terrible amount of punishment while Fielding was barely marked. In the last two rounds Lewis was forced to hang on to save a K.O. In the ninth round he went down for the count of seven but managed to struggle to his feet and weather out the round.

The fans saw a real slugging match in the semi-windup when Danny Pastoro held Tim Keist to a draw. A few weeks ago Keist handed Pastoro a bad licking but Pastoro, who has been working out with Dusty Miller, showed much improvement in Saturday night's four-round bout. Both fighters landed some telling blows but none of them produced a knockout. The verdict was well received by the fans although a few contended Pastoro should have taken the decision.

DAVIES WINS

Jumbo Davies added another victory to his credit when he took the decision from Art Manning, of New Westminster. The Mainlander proved fast but after a couple of clinches with Jumbo he kept running away as if hurt. Jumbo was the aggressor throughout and deserved the verdict.

In the opening bout Charlie Bradshaw took the call over Chris Langdon, of Swansea. The latter, a veteran, found the pace far too fast after

Former Member Of Black Hawks Goes to Seattle

Winnipeg, Oct. 8.—Cecil Brown, western hockey star, who played with Chicago Black Hawks last season, may play with the Seattle team of the Coast League during the coming season.

"Cec" will be given a tryout at the Coast, and if he has recovered sufficiently from an injury received at Chicago last winter, will be added to the regular string.

GRAVLIN WINS UPLANDS CUP

Turns in Net Score of 274 For 72 Holes; Morrison Has Best Gross, 295

Vic Gravin carried off all the honors in the final of the Uplands Cup competition played at the Uplands Golf Club yesterday. Gravin won the trophy with a net score of 274 for the seventy-two holes, five strokes better than R. Morrison and S. G. Peele, who each had 279.

Morrison had the best gross score for the four rounds with 295. Besides taking the cup, Gravin won the qualifying round and the prize for the best net in the final round. His net score yesterday was 136, one stroke better than Morrison.

The scores with the totals for the first round and second round handicaps and the net total on two rounds, were as follows:

V. R. Gravin	166	108	50	274
R. Morrison	148	147	100	295
S. G. Peele	174	127	93	294

the first two rounds and it was only his ring generalship that saved him from taking the count.

QUEENS SUFFER DEFEAT

Beaten For First Time at Home Since 1922 By University of Toronto

Balmy Beach, Dominion Rugby Champs, Score 7-6 Win Over McGill

Richardson Stadium, Kingston, Ont., Oct. 8.—Batting against a large early lead, Varsity of Toronto downed Queen's in the opening senior intercollegiate game by the score of 10 to 7 Saturday afternoon. It was the first time Queen's have been defeated at home since 1922.

The game was bitterly contested all the way. Munro's touch in the first quarter and Carter's convert gave Queen's six points but Varsity fought saggedly. Darling's kicking started to pull up the score and then Snyder's place kick gave the blue and white a three point lead.

FOUGHT FIERCELY

In the last quarter Queen's fought fiercely, staving their old game of working for a fumble, but continuing to be kicked on the first down, but though Darling and Davey dropped the ball they invariably recovered.

In the last ten minutes Queen's kept play around Varsity's line, but a sterling defence held them out until the game ended.

McGill Stadium, Montreal, Oct. 8.—Balmy Beach, Toronto's Dominion Championship football team, scored a 7-to-4 victory over the 1928 edition of McGill senior intercollegiate squad in an annual exhibition game here Saturday. A returned punt by Billings in the last thirty seconds of the final quarter which rolled beyond the McGill deadline, gave them victory by the narrowest margins.

Lansdowne Park, Ottawa, Oct. 8.—Ottawa Senators won their opening Big Four rugby game here Saturday, when they defeated Montreal A.A.A. by 19 to 8. It was a loosely played but hard-fought struggle with Ottawa getting the breaks.

The Senators scored two touchdowns, one in the first minute of play on a fumble and the other in the second quarter when Bruce grabbed Moore's fumble. The visitors scored one touch on Terry's sensational fifty-yard dash early in the third quarter.

M.A.A.A. fought hard in this period to pull the game out of the fire but fumbles halted them.

Hamilton, Oct. 8.—In the first game of the Ontario Rugby Union season Camp Borden put Tigers on the short end of an 18 to 8 score here Saturday. The flens appeared much the better team and with Dave Harding as helmsman, they were never seriously threatened. A strong wind from the south-east played an important part in the game. Hamilton failed to score in the first quarter when the Bordenites ran up 12 points. The latter were held scoreless in the second period but the best the Tigers could do was get two rouges.

Varsity Stadium, Toronto, Oct. 8.—Hamilton Tigers opened the inter-provincial union schedule in impressive style Saturday, when they whitewashed Argonauts of Toronto six to nothing. Every point of the Bengals came one at a time and five of the total were due to the good right foot of young Hugh Welch.

The former Delta collegiate boy, making his debut in senior company, accounted for five rouges when his mates gave him the opportunity.

Captain Bert Gibb gained the other point when in the third quarter he kicked to Chantler, who was downed for a rouge.

Moose Jaw, Oct. 8.—Out-generaled at the crucial moments, Moose Jaw Maroons once again went down in defeat in Saturday's grid feature here with the Regina Rough Riders, in an inter-provincial union fixture, 11 to 3.

Burnley Unseated From Top Position In English Soccer

Make Great Attempt to Pull Game Out of Fire But Lose 4-3 to Manchester United; 45,000 Fans Watch Manchester City Take Free Scoring Match From Sunderland; Downfall of Chelsea Features Second Division Games; Glasgow Rangers Retain Winning Streak

London, Oct. 8.—Burnley were deposed from their position at the head of the English First Division standing on Saturday by Manchester United in a thrilling game. The United Team looked as if they were going to overwhelm Burnley, putting in four goals in the first twenty minutes. Spence and Hanson each scored twice. Then Burnley got going and before the interval had reduced the disadvantage to two through tallies of McCluggage and Beel. Seven minutes from the finish, after the United goal had been under a terrific bombardment, McCluggage netted again from a penalty. The United held on to their slim superiority to the finish amid considerable excitement.

Ashton Villa got going first against Sheffield United, though Wain's goal. Waring put in another at half time. Tunstall then scored for Sheffield, but Dorrell's fine goal for the Villa put the Sheffield team out of the running.

Derby County had an easy time at Birmingham. Whitehouse by his two goals in the first half gave them a comfortable lead. Bedford added a couple more soon after the turn round. Bond registered Birmingham's lone point.

Amos scored the goal which enable Bury to beat Bolton Wanderers. The score came in the first half.

A GREAT CROWD

Manchester City and Sunderland battled before 45,000 people through the first half to a two all tie. Manchester put Everton out of the running after the intervals to clinch the match.

There was no score in the Everton-Arsenal fight until after thirty minutes of play, when Ritchie broke the ice for the league champions. Lambert equalized and then Dean booted in a third. Jones scored for Arsenal, but Ritchie put Everton out of the running by netting near the end. Forty thousand saw the match, which was played at Everton.

CHELSEA BEATEN
In the Second Division the downfall of Chelsea at West Bromwich proved the headline event. West Bromwich played like champions and were never in danger. Short and Glidden of West Brom were responsible for the Pensiders' first defeat this season. Reading won their first victory this season when they beat Port Vale, while Hull City suffered their first defeat this season when they lost to Tottenham Hotspur.

Glasgow, Oct. 8.—Third Lanark gave the unbeaten Rangers a surprise in Scottish League soccer matches Saturday. Third Lanark put in two goals in the first half through Hamill and Wilson. Rangers put Everton out of the running and not only equalized but added three more for good measure. Ranger scorers were: Morton, McKeljohn, from a penalty; McPhail and Muirhead, 2.

Hearns, who have not been going too well lately, changed their formation against Falkirk, and very effective results were achieved. Two goals came from McNeil, two; Murray, two; Battles and Smith.

Houston and Morrison registered for Falkirk.

HAMILTON-SWAMPED

Partick Thistle swamped Hamilton Academicals by the score of 8 to 0. Hale netted five times for the victors. Cameron's goal for Motherwell defeated Aberdeen and elected them from league leadership. Motherwell deserved to have won by a larger margin.

Dundee won their third game in succession when they downed Raith Rovers 3 to 0. Smith put the ball through his own goal twice to give Dundee two of their tallies, and McKel had the other one.

Glasgow, Oct. 8.—Forty thousand people saw Celtic retain the Glasgow Cup here Saturday at Hampden Park by beating Queen's Park, their opponents, in the final of the series for the trophy, by two goals to nil. Heavy rain fell before the start of the match, which kept the attendance down. Queen's Park had hard luck in not winning. The amateurs outplayed Celtic in the first half, but could not score. After the interval McCrory and Gray scored for Celtic, and Queen's good chance to win the cup for the first time in thirty years was crushed by those tallies.

Ramon Novarro and Renee Adoree Play In "Forbidden Hours"

Story of Mythical Kingdom on Screen at Dominion Theatre for First Three Days of Week; Setting of Film Laid In Gorgeous Splendor of European Court; Colored Comedy Also a Feature.

Ramon Novarro, who has given the world the young hero of "Ben-Hur," the pathetic prince of "The Student Prince," and many other historic roles of the screen, appears at the Dominion Theatre in one of the most interesting portrayals in his career. In "Forbidden Hours," his newest Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer starring vehicle, Novarro appears as a young king in a modern kingdom in Europe; a monarch facing present-day problems of the world—in a gripping romance of things of the present time—but no less romantic than any play of olden days.

—struggling against tradition, court intrigue, international diplomacy and even the political marriage that every king must, eventually, face.

A BOLD THEME

The love story revolves about the king and his sweetheart, a commoner, played by Renee Adoree, and shows how the wearer of a crown is torn between his love and his duty to his country. It is a bold theme, magnificently worked out in spectacular settings, depicting great court affairs in the royal throne room, a gorgeous royal wedding in a great cathedral, and other huge details—all incidental to a poignant love story that runs through the entire production.

Opens To-day For Week At Coliseum

Great Story of Father Love With H. B. Warner and Anna Q. Nilsson Will Play for Week at Local Theatre; Lee Jaxon Players Will Present "Wanted, Some Parents," on Stage.

One of the greatest films of the year, "Sorrell and Son," will play a return engagement in this city, starting this evening at the Coliseum Theatre. Upon popular request the management of the Coliseum secured this remarkable picture for this week's screen offering.

This great picture of father love was produced by Herbert Brenon, who has brought Warwick Deering's fine novel, "Sorrell and Son," to the screen, along with its tremendous theme of love of father for son and of son for father.

Imagine the joy of seeing H. B. Warner in a superb performance as knightly, lovable Capt. Sorrell, one of war's dervishes, driven to scrub tavern floors for the sake of educating his boy. Imagine seeing this hero pilot the lad through life's temptations and entanglements while struggling himself with a crucial romance. Imagine seeing all the tense climaxes of "Sorrell and Son," enacted by this sterling player; and by other favorites like Anna Q. Nilsson, Alice Joyce, Nils Asther and Carmel Myers. Imagine them respectively as Dora, Sorrell's faithful, butterfly wife; as Fanny Garland, his consoling angel; as Kit, his beloved and restless son; and as

Dick Barthelmess Has Leading Role In Capitol Film

Story Now on Local Screen Taken in France During and After World War; Dick Plays Part of Deserter in French Army; Stage Hits This Week Include Colored Comedians, a Guitar Artist, and a Contralto.

Patrons of the Capitol Theatre will be introduced to a new Richard Barthelmess Tuesday and Wednesday they will be presented to the First National star's newest feature production, "Out of the Ruins," a fast-moving and dramatic screen version of the well-known short story by Sir Philip Gibbs.

In "Out of the Ruins" Barthelmess will be seen for the first time in years in a role strictly calling for love scenes rather than character delineation. In his previous productions the star has been noted for his extraordinary character studies, such as in "Broken Blossoms," "Tolable David," "The Patent Leather Kid" and "The Noose." In "Out of the Ruins" however, he is given not only excellent histrionic opportunities, but is also given a beautiful love story.

A FRENCH BLUE DEVIL

Although this story is laid in France during and after the recent World War, the story is really one concerning love and its tribulations. Barthelmess in the role of a French Blue Devil deserts his regiment in order to be with his sweetheart. His court martial as a deserter, his sentence to be shot and what follows forms the unusual denouement of the Gibbs narrative.

ON THE STAGE

The stage attractions at the Capitol for this week include Tyus and Tyus, colored comedians, who can sing and dance; Bert Bennett and his guitar; and Dorothy Lewis, well-known contralto soloist in song selections. Harold Bechtel, the singing M.C. and the concert orchestra will complete the fine bill of specialties which will be offered twice daily.

Waterpowers Are Argued Before Court

Toronto, Oct. 8.—The Toronto Star publishes the following:

"Absolutely exclusive right of the Federal Government to control water powers of navigable rivers and boundary waters as argued by Hon. N. W. Rowell, K.C., counsel for the Dominion, before the Supreme Court of Canada, if upheld by the court, might prove to be the most completely discomposing event ever faced by the Ontario Hydro-electric Commission. I. D. Lucas, counsel for the commission, stated to-day:

"The thing most serious," said Mr. Lucas, "is that as the court has intimated, and a good many people believe, the result of this reference will be inconclusive and not clear up the situation."

"There is one thing certain," Mr. Lucas declared. "Until this question of who controls the waters of the province is settled there will be no Ottawa River or St. Lawrence development."

TO APPEAR IN RECITAL TUESDAY

Mme. Eva Baird, soprano, who will give her first public recital since returning from a period of study in Europe, to-morrow evening at the Empress Hotel, at 8.30 o'clock. Ira Dilworth, who was to have acted as accompanist for the occasion, is unable to do so owing to pressure of work, and Mrs. Gertrude Hantly Green, a life-long friend, has stepped into the breach and will assist the singer at the piano. The programmes issued to-morrow night will contain an English translation of all the foreign songs, for the benefit of the audience.

The Star further quotes Mr. Lucas as saying:

"Of course no government would tear down the power house and destroy enterprises, but the fact remains that the Ontario Hydro-electric Commission is worrying. We should have to negotiate with a new owner if the Dominion Government is upheld in its claim for the proprietorship of boundary waters and water power."

Aged Men With Fortune Gone Enjoy Luxuries of Former Days

Toronto, Oct. 8.—Sixty-nine aged men and women live together with luxury in a whitestone mansion in the Bronx, but they neither own it nor pay the rent, says The Canadian Jewish Review. They eat in a sunny dining-room with imported tapestries where maids serve them food of the best kind, but do not pay the maids or buy the food.

They lounge away their declining years in a drawing-room filled with the finest of imported furnishings, in a richly-colored library walled in quartered oak, and in a big card room where all the floors are deeply carpeted and where everything reflects the art of one of Fifth Avenue's best known decorators. But they do not own any of these things or own them.

This situation is the result of the will of Andrew Freedman, financier and former owner of the New York Glanias, who died December 4, 1915. His will provided that a portion now amounting to about $4,000,000 of his estate should be used for the creation and maintenance of a home for:

"The free and gratuitous reception, shelter, nourishment, care and maintenance of aged and indigent persons of both sexes who have been in good circumstances, but by reason of adverse fortunes have become poor and dependent. Husband and wife, if received, shall dwell together, and there shall be no restrictions as to the form of religious worship to be observed."

The grided iron doors of the four-storyed palace, at 155th Street and Grand Concourse, were opened for the admission of members as the residents are called, July 15, 1924. There are now twenty married couples, seventeen unmarried women and twelve unattached men, including Hebrews, Protestants and Catholics. Construction is to start in a few weeks on additions to double the capacity.

Gentility, including respectability, is the principal qualification for admission. Hundreds apply and few meet the tests set up by the board of directors, presided over by Samuel Untermyer, lawyer. Fewer yet get in. In the Andrew Freedman Home's history no member has rehabilitated himself financially, and the only withdrawals have been the dead. Sixteen have gone this way.

The company is a white-haired, sometimes balding, sometimes bearded, sometimes doctored, and sometimes preached, doctors, bankers and lawyers. Who they are, they do not want the world to know, and in this they are helped by the closed-door policy of Superintendent Virgil Johnson and his wife, the matron, Mrs. Marion Johnson.

A person approaching the house, set well back from the Concourse and surrounded by lawns of heavy, well-kept grass, is warned by a no-trespassing sign. If he is urged on merely by curiosity to see the wealth of this singular house, he is turned back at the door. If he is urged on by the need of a place to live, he is turned back at the door. If he is urged on by the need of a place to live, he is turned back at the door.

But the members are allowed practically every privilege of a home. They can bring in whom they please. They have the greatest of the greatest. Each room has its own bath. Members decorate their rooms to their own taste. On the walls are diplomas of law and medicine, and family pictures made generations ago. One of the few rules is that there shall be no pets. The home provides free room, board, laundry and medical service. The only financial requirement is that a member have funds for clothes and incidental expenses, and that he provide funds or arrange with friends for burial.

Some of the men have jobs outside, and they are among the happiest, for most of the members have little to occupy them, except the thought of their reverses. Amid all the luxury, there is little gaiety. The members, however, can play on occasion.

"You never saw any crowd of youngsters that could think up more clever things than these people," Mrs. Johnson said. "We have a lot of entertainments. They do harades, for instance, and you can imagine three white-haired men, wearing white trousers and pulling on cars made out of broom handles with cardboard stuck on with thumbtacks, acting 'Three Men in a Boat'."

"Last Christmas we chose twenty-five children from the Bronx Shelter of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, and the women kept busy three weeks making clothes for dolls, knitting sweaters, stringing beads and filling stockings. Christmas Eve they sat the children down around a fourteen-foot tree in the card room, and crowded around outside. After a little programme, just at the right time, somebody at the door exclaimed, 'Here comes Santa Claus now!'

"Then you could hear Santa's bells jingling down the hall and in he burst. We had a nice fat Santa. The children's eyes just popped, and so did the old folks. The next day there was the loveliest spirit you ever saw. Folks who hadn't been speaking to each other for weeks started talking again."

CHURCH HEADS DISCUSS WORK

Forward Movement Chief
Topic of United Church Laymen at Toronto

Toronto, Oct. 8.—Sessions of the Laymen's Convention of the United Church of Canada covered a wide field Saturday.

Rev. George C. Pidgeon, D.D., said the United Church was "an adventure in faith," and declared it would say to every other Canadian church, "We are ready to put everything on the table for a free and full discussion of the possibilities of union, but there must be no reservations."

Budgets totalling $3,400,000 for the missionary and maintenance fund had been allocated by the church this year, Rev. Peter Bryce, D.D., reported. He said the fund would be distributed on the basis of 42 per cent to home missions, 30 per cent to foreign missions, 9 per cent to retired ministers and the balance to theological colleges, evangelism and social service, religious education, the general council and the treasury.

Former Moderator Speaks
The closing session of the convention was marked by addresses by Rev. Dr. James Endicott, former Moderator, and J. H. Gundy of Toronto.

Dr. Endicott said that in a 60,000-mile tour of the world he had found the church performing effectively its highest spiritual and social task.

Mr. Gundy said the duty of the laymen who attended the convention was to return and give leadership in the consecration of men and money to the service of the church.

Prohibition Question
Earlier in the day Rev. D. N. McLachlan, D.D., of the evangelistic and social department of the church, declared the United Church "believes that any system that does not contain a clause for the prohibition of the manufacture, importation and sale of alcohol for beverage purposes is incomplete."

Messages from the Pacific Coast of Canada were delivered before the convention Saturday. Rev. J. Richmond Craig, whose church in Vancouver is known as "The Church of the Open Door," suggested the title might have been applied to the United Church.

He referred to efforts made by some downtown churches to attract congregations and asserted that "musical offerings are not necessary."

Mission Worker Speaks
George Pringle, worker in the British Columbia coast missions, drew a contrast when he delivered his message.

"When I am speaking in church," he said, "I have to be on guard lest I am too broad-minded. You have fundamentalists and modernists here, I believe. When I am speaking in a logging camp I have to guard lest I be too narrow-minded."

"Which," he asked, "is the best atmosphere?"

You can't help but sleep on a Slumber King

RESTLESS nights, leaving you droopy, short of temper and tired in the morning, were made unnecessary when Simmons introduced Slumber King bed springs.

Slumber King's pressed-steel frame carries twenty-seven ribbon strips of fine steel suspended at each end by stalwart coil springs, and joined by four cross rows of smaller flexible spirals.

When you surrender your aching limbs to the friendly embrace of a Slumber King, no matter how hard a day's work lies behind, your weary body will find complete repose. Slumber King bestows complete conformity with every move you make. Dreamless, sound, restorative sleep follows as a matter of course, and the new day finds you alert, vigorous, keen to face whatever problems are ahead.

With these advantages Slumber King combines attractive appearance. Built box-spring height for daytime dressing up. No sharp corners, no sag; and taut edges held in place by double width rolled edge border strips.

In Every GOOD Furniture Store in Canada, for ONLY Twelve Dollars.

SIMMONS SPRINGS

BUILT FOR SLEEP

BEDS • MATTRESSES • PILLOWS

Also Built for Sleep SIMMONS COIL SPRINGS

If you prefer a coil spring, ask to see the "Ace," "Simcoe" or "Banner." Each is built to give you the utmost in comfort and quality for the money you have to spend. The "Ace" with its spring-tied top is particularly soft and luxurious.

SIMMONS CABLE SPRINGS

For a person who prefers a firmer spring of the cable type the "Balmoral" is ideal. Built on the same type of frame as the Slumber King it has a continuous cable fabric suspended from strong helicals at each end and is cross-supported by four rows of small springs.

LONG WATERPOWER WAR TERMINATES

East Kootenay Power Company Will Be Awarded Interior Power Site

Over 10,000 horsepower additional electrical energy will shortly be made available to the mines and industries of the southeastern interior by development of the Elk River at Phillips Canyon, to be commenced before June 30, 1930.

A fifty-year license to store and use 1,000 cubic feet of water per second will be awarded the East Kootenay Power Company almost immediately by the Provincial Government.

Hon. F. P. Burden, Minister of Lands, Friday granted approval of the Power Company as a proper concern to be licensed to develop hydro-electric power for sale.

VALUABLE SITE

This action brings to a close a long campaign by rival power interests to secure control of the valuable Phillips Canyon power site, which is capable of supplying 15,000 horsepower.

The East Kootenay Power Company now distributes over 27,000 horsepower in the Cranbrook and Fernie districts. Some 15,000 horsepower is derived from higher up the Elk River at Elko, 7,000 horsepower is generated at a hydro-electric plant at Bull River and 5,000 horsepower is produced by a steam plant in Alberta. All these plants are tied into a unified distributing system.

LONG DELAYED

In 1924 the East Kootenay Power Company applied for the right to develop Phillips Canyon, and was met by a rival application from the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company. Claims of priority in application caused long delays in settlement.

The situation was further complicated early this year when C. McNab filed an application for the valuable concession, acting on behalf of paper interests which contemplated erection of a large pulp and paper mill.

The Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company is a major user of power supplied by the East Kootenay Company, and this summer withdrew its application for rights at Phillips Canyon when the service was improved.

The pulp interests represented by

Mr. McNab asked and received a delay until June 30 before the Government awarded the rights sought, this courtesy being asked to permit cruising of the timber resources tributary to the proposed power. No further action appears to have been taken by Mr. McNab in support of his application.

A.Y.P.A. HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

Stanley Hawkins Re-elected President of Victoria Local Council

The annual meeting of the Victoria Local Council of the Anglican Young People's Association was held at the Memorial Hall on Thursday evening, October 4. A full representation was present from the four city branches, Christ Church Cathedral, St. Barnabas, St. John's and St. Mary's. An election of officers for the ensuing year was held, all officers being returned by acclamation.

Stanley Hawkins was re-elected president, Miss Irene Plowman was elected vice-president, Miss Phyllis Roberts, secretary, and Nugent Spinks re-elected treasurer. Miss Plowman, the new vice-president, retired from the office of secretary after holding it from the inception of the council two years ago. A vote of thanks and appreciation for her work was tendered to her.

A discussion was held upon the various phases of the Association's work, both in the district and in the branches. An invitation was received from Rev. N. E. Smith, rector of St. Barnabas, for all the branches in the city to attend evening service at the church on Sunday, October 28. This was cordially accepted, and it was decided that all branches meet outside the church at 7:45 p.m.

The Local Council was organized two years ago on the occasion of the visit of the Dominion vice-president, for the purpose of stimulating the work of the branches on the lines laid down in the Association's manual and to foster friendship and co-operation between them. Since that time the council has functioned continuously and with good results, attributable in no small degree to the untiring energy of Mr. Hawkins, who has held the office of president since its inception.

James H. Beatty, M.P.P. will be the speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club at the Empress Hotel on Thursday. He will review the vocational service programme laid down by Rotary International.

The regular meeting of Quadra Parent-Teacher Association will be held in the schoolroom at 8 p.m. The speaker will be Alex. Peden. To-morrow night a five hundred card party will be held in the manual training room at 8 o'clock.

The popular concert party of the First United Church Choir will travel to Sidney this evening, and give a programme of vocal and instrumental music and elocution, which will include solos, duets, trios, quartets and choir numbers.

Dr. William Russell will be the speaker to-morrow at the weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis Club at the Empress Hotel, and will discuss "Physical Education and Ideals." Mrs. A. E. Millhouse will entertain with vocal numbers.

The Ward Four Saanich Conservative Association will meet this evening at 8 o'clock at Colquhoun Hall, Wilkinson Road, Ward Five Saanich Conservative Association will meet at the home of Mrs. Strutt on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Fire which threatened the business block on the south side of Yates Street, between Broad and Government Streets yesterday afternoon, when an awning over the store of the Wiper Candy Company became ablaze, was quickly extinguished by the fire department.

A joint meeting of the membership committee of the Chamber of Commerce and the executive of the Junior Chamber will be held at 5 o'clock this afternoon in the Chamber of Commerce to formulate plans for a membership campaign.

Two automobiles driven by John Ewing and C. J. Gray collided at the intersection of Tolmie Avenue and Douglas Street yesterday afternoon, resulting in damage to both cars. None of the occupants were injured, according to the police report.

The annual meeting of the Saanich Conservative Association will be held to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock in the Conservative rooms in the Campbell Building. Premier Tolmie and the four Victoria members of the Legislature will be the principal speakers.

Special services will be held at the Gospel Tabernacle of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, Yates Street, when Don McCrossan, pianist to Dr. Charles S. Price, will conduct a week's service, commencing to-morrow (Tuesday) at 8 p.m. Mr. McCrossan has come from St. Louis.

The Provincial Public Works Department has awarded McCrossan and McDougall of Nelson a contract to build a new ferry for use on Kootenay Lake. The ferry will cost $9,275.70, and will be capable of carrying twelve tons. It will be placed in service before December 25 next, replacing the present ferry, which has been condemned.

Frank Bland, charged with assaulting his wife, Mrs. Frank Bland, and occasionally bodily harm, asked trial by a higher court when arraigned before Magistrate George Jay in City Police Court this morning. The case was stood over until to-morrow morning, when the charge may be altered to common assault, on the request of City Prosecutor C. L. Harrison.

Dr. Clem Davies will render a dramatic play, Oct. 8 to-night, at Temple Hall, North Park Street. The play to be presented is entitled "The Fool," by Channing Pollock, and is the story of a clergyman in a metropolitan fashionable church who was true to his convictions. What happened to him is quite interesting. Capital and labor, fashion and religion, come into conflict. Members and friends of the City Temple are invited to attend.

At the recent meeting of the Purple Star Lodge, L.O.B.A., Mrs. Trowsdale, presiding, there was a good attendance of members, also a number of visitors including Mrs. Langford and Mrs. Holby of Antelope Lodge, No. 278, Sasekatchewan—mother and sister of Mrs. E. Six candidates were initiated, after which refreshments were served. Sister Ard offered her home for a five hundred card party in aid of the hall funds.

BRIDGE GRANT UP TO-MORROW

Report on Vancouver Request to Go Before Cabinet

Vancouver's application for a grant of $100,000 towards the creation of the Burrard Bridge will probably be decided upon by the Cabinet within the next few days, Premier Tolmie states to-day. Tolmie expects all the members of his executive council will be in Victoria to-morrow and the matter will be then brought before them for a decision.

The application has been placed before the Government on several occasions since it took office, first by J. B. Williams, Vancouver city solicitor, and later by a Vancouver delegation. It was referred to the Public Works Department for a full report and it is understood that this report is now ready for presentation to the Cabinet.

CHINESE BURIED WITH ORIENTAL CEREMONY HERE

Late Ching Hing Young Laid at Rest: Huge Funeral Procession

Amid weird, yet impressive, Oriental pomp and ceremony, the remains of the late Ching Hing Young, who was president of the Chinese Freemasons here and foreign secretary of the Chinese Benevolent Association, were borne through the centre of the city yesterday afternoon to their resting place at the Chinese cemetery.

The funeral procession which was over half a mile in length was an unusual sight to Victorians as it wound its way slowly through city streets, headed by the customary "riders" of the dead man. It was the greatest tribute paid to a Chinese here in many years.

WELL-KNOWN HERE
The late Ching Hing Young passed away last Tuesday at the family residence, 537 1/2 Fagard Street. He was well-known among Orientals here, having been associated with many Chinese movements during his long residence in the city.

OUTSIDE HOME
The cortege, which attracted widespread attention, left the Thomson Funeral Home at 1 o'clock, proceeding to Chinese Freemason Hall where funeral rites were conducted with a Chinese band in attendance. Fruit and Chinese candles were laid out on tables in front of the temple and the last respects of the freemasons were paid.

FUNERAL PROCESSION
A past president of the Chinese Freemasons, horseback accompanied the "riders" of the horse with reversed stirrups at the head of the procession, followed by a band under the direction of Banister James Miller. There came a group of Freemason officials carrying standards of their organization. The casket was followed by the late Ching's family in white robes, and after which was a special car carrying the many floral tributes.

CONFUCIAN RITES
In a large tallyho was a Chinese band, rendering weird Oriental music, followed by a large procession of automobiles.

CONFUCIAN RITES
A the cemetery, the service was conducted by a pastor of the Chinese United Church. Confucian rites were also observed at the graveside.

FISHERMAN PAYS
HEAVY PENALTY
Violation of Special Rules
Brings $300 Fine; Boat
Confiscated

(Special to The Times)
Saward, Oct. 8.—Convicted on three charges of violating the special fishery regulations, Billy Smith, an Indian of Knight Inlet, was fined $100 and costs on each count in court held aboard a fisheries patrol vessel at the mouth of Adams River last week. The hearing took five hours. W. M. Halliday, Indian agent, appeared for the accused. A. F. Lloyd, fisheries officer, was the prosecutor for the Department of Fisheries.

CONFISCATE BOAT
Matthys was in charge of the seiner R.S. 478 when the offences were committed. He was charged with fishing for salmon inside the limits at the mouth of Adams River with a seine extending from the shore and for attempting to drive salmon down stream.

OBITUARY
There passed away on Sunday morning at the King's Daughters' Hospital, Duncan, Mary Louise Mariner. Miss Mariner is mourned by two sisters, Gertrude and Nettie. The funeral will take place to-morrow at 2.30 p.m. from St. Peter's Church, Quamichan, with Archdeacon H. A. Colleson officiating.

DELIVERED WEDNESDAY
The plane, which was a Driggs-Dart, equipped with a three-cylinder engine, had been seen in the air here and was sold last week to the Spratt-Shaw School of Vancouver. It was flown across the Gulf on Friday by Pilot Wilson of the Airways' staff.

William Macrae of Prince Rupert Dies
Prince Rupert, Oct. 8.—William Macrae, sixty-nine, a native of Scotland and a pioneer resident of Prince Rupert, died yesterday.

Crystal Garden Land Exchange To Be Ratified

The council of the city is taking in exchange for the Crystal Garden Block, for tax reverted property on Rockland Avenue and Major Road, in a transfer with the Douglas Estate, will go before the City Council to-night in by-law form for ratification.

Also before the council will be the Marchant plan for grading all civic services, withheld from the former council meeting. Committee reports and routine matters also figure on the agenda for to-night.

VOTERS' LIST IS INCREASING

Seventy Persons Register
Each Day; Total List Expected to Reach 12,000

A city voters list of 12,000 names is anticipated this year from returns completed at the City Hall to date. Upwards of 300 householders and tenants registered their names for inclusion on the list last week, with three weeks left for those who have not attended to the matter. Property owners will account for about 10,000 names on the list. They register automatically.

WEDNESDAY, October 31, at five p.m. is the closing time after which no further registrations can be made. The court of revision on the list will take place after the list is closed.

BARROW FARM PLAN SCORNE

Government Rejects Suggestion of Model Farms in Sumas

Both Premier Tolmie and Hon. William Atkinson, Minister of Agriculture, were emphatic to-day in announcing that the plan for the establishment of model farms at Sumas would not be carried out. Before leaving the office of Minister of Agriculture in the last Cabinet, E. D. Barrow left behind plans for establishing under Government supervision two farms that would be equipped with the latest machinery, farm buildings and all apparatus to facilitate successful farming. The farms planned were at Sumas and would act as a guide to other Sumas farmers in securing information on latest farming inventions.

FORMER LOCAL PLANE CRASHES

First Plane Brought Here By B.C. Airways Falls in Vancouver

According to information given out this morning by officials of the B.C. Airways Limited, the plane which crashed in Vancouver on Saturday was the first one brought to this city by the company. It was the little two-engine "Miss Nana" named after the daughter of Ernest Eves, president of the company. For some time this "diver" of the air was on exhibit in the grounds of Eves Bros. and attracted much attention at the time.

The machine "pancaked" on Lulu Island on Saturday when the pilot, Edward Luke, lost control. Luke was rushed to the Vancouver General Hospital but examination showed that he had only a minor leg injury and he was allowed to proceed to his home.

A large number of witnesses saw Luke take off from Vancouver's temporary airport near Lansdowne Park. As the plane was banking into the wind to turn toward the west at 200 feet, it apparently stalled. Luke lost control and the machine careened into a flat spot. As it neared the ground, the machine flattened out just as it crashed into the irrigation ditch.

Pilot A. H. Wilson, flying the B.C. Airways Limited Eagle Rock plane Saturday, was instrumental in discovering two lost hunters on Salt Spring Island. Taking up with him a farmer of Salt Spring, who applied to the company for aid, Pilot Wilson flew over the area where the two lost boys were supposed to be. The boys were seen waving their hands to reassure those in the plane that they were alright, and eventually returned home safely.

CARS BADLY DAMAGED IN COLLISION

Occupants Escape Serious Injury in Head-on Crash on Quadra Street

Indian Girl Cut on Head in Second Collision With Chinaman

Two cars were badly damaged and the occupants shaken up yesterday afternoon when automobiles driven by H. Miller, 733 McClure Street, and H. Hitchin, 946 Caledonia Avenue, collided on North Quadra Street near the Canadian National Railway crossing.

It was a head-on collision and the front sections of both vehicles telescoped. Fortunately the occupants of the cars escaped with only minor injuries. Mrs. Hitchin suffered greatly from shock and her shoulder was injured. A. E. Scotch, who was also a passenger in the Hitchin car, was cut about the face by flying glass. The two drivers were uninjured.

PULLED OUT TO PASS
According to a report given to Chief of Police Allan Rankin of Saanich, the car driven by Mr. Miller was bound for the city from Sidney and swung out to pass two other cars. The Hitchin car was proceeding in the other direction and the vehicles met head on.

GIRL INJURED
An Indian girl was injured in a second automobile accident, which took place on the East Saanich Road, over the week-end, suffering a bad cut on the top of the head. She was riding in a car driven by Simon Tommy, an Indian, when it collided with a light truck driven by Mow, a Chinaman, at the foot of the Rae Hill, two miles past Elk Lake on the highway.

CITY REVIEWS DOCK PLANS

Development of Port Facilities Subject of Meeting

City Industrial Committee in Conference on Scheme To-day

Plans to bring the ocean docks of the port into their fullest use are being considered by the industrial committee of the City Council this afternoon, with the aid of technical advice from marine and transportation men of the city.

Mayor J. C. Pendray, Aldermen H. O. Litchfield, J. B. Clearhouse, E. S. Woodward and John Harvey form the committee, which has already secured authority from the council in support of the effort to enlist expert aid from the Federal Government in preparation of the plan.

MAJOR POINTS
The raising of the height of the Ogden Point piers, their lining with wooden fenders, the construction of a new pier and western breakwater, and rail connection for all ocean docks are major points in the proposals now under review. The committee also suggests the expropriation of the Rishet piers for use by the Canadian National Railways. The assistance of an expert harbor works engineer from Ottawa has been requested by the City Council of the Federal Government.

With the rapid growth of Pacific trade, and renewed evidences of industrial expansion in the city, the time is ripe for the development of port facilities, the committee reported to the council on Monday last, when the plan was "broadened."

RIPE FOR DEVELOPMENT
The first objective, it was stated, was the rounding of existing facilities, to bring them to their fullest degree of usefulness. Extensions and improvements could come later, as business developed and increased tonnage warranted the move, reported the committee.

Meanwhile the whole subject is under review, with expert aid asked from the Dominion authorities in preparation of a practical plan to bring port facilities up to the prevailing standards elsewhere on the coast.

WILLIAMS WILL ATTEND FROLIC

Canada's Olympic Hero at Kinsman Party at Crystal Garden Wednesday

A grand frolic at which Percy Williams, Canada's Olympic hero, will be present, will be held by the Kinsman Club in co-operation with the Musicians' Union on Wednesday evening commencing at 9 o'clock at the Crystal Garden.

"During the frolic Premier Tolmie will present the sprint champion with a special medal from the Provincial Government in recognition of his great achievements."

One of the big attractions at the affair will be the drawing of the tombola tickets to decide the winner of the Durant sedan.

Throughout the evening dancing exhibitions will be given by pupils of Mrs. Wilson's Russian Dance School. Two feature numbers will be given by Jay and Louis, two excellent dancers, who will give demonstrations of step dancing and an act impersonating bewery characters in the ballroom.

A limited number of tickets are on sale for the cabaret in which supper will be served. The banquet hall in the building will be used for this purpose and there is no doubt that those who are fortunate enough to secure tickets will enjoy to the full the novel entertainment which will be offered.

Aged Resident Died Yesterday

The death took place yesterday at his home, 1812 Cook Street, of William Jackson, aged eighty-three years, ten months. He was born in Staffordshire, England, and had been a resident of Victoria for the last twenty-two years.

The late Mr. Jackson is survived by his widow, Mrs. Sarah Ann Jackson at home, four daughters, Mrs. E. Kirk, 1280 Walnut Street, Mrs. J. M. Dunn of 568 David Street, Mrs. J. Jackson of 1431 Vining Street, and Mrs. C. Garry in Australia, also nineteen grandchildren and eight great grandchildren.

The funeral will be held on Wednesday, October 10, at 2 o'clock, from the Sands Funeral Chapel, and the body will be laid to rest in the family plot at Ross Bay cemetery.

Kumtaks Club Hold Meeting

The Kumtaks Club, at its luncheon to-day at David Spencer's Limited, listened with interest to reports of the annual banquet of the Vancouver Business and Professional Women's Clubs, attended by nearly twenty Kumtaks members over the week-end.

Miss M. A. Wigley, Miss Kate McGray and Miss Kate McLaren reported on the various features which made the trip so enjoyable.

Miss Lacey drew the attention of the members to the Girl Guides' swimming gala at the Crystal Garden on November 3 and the Tillamook Company's birthday party on December 6.

On Saturday evening of this week the club will hold a bridge and mah jong party at the home of Mrs. W. Lloyd Morgan, Blackwood Avenue. Miss Macrae is in charge of table reservations, which may be made by telephoning 2605R. Mrs. Stanley Patrick delighted the gathering with vocal solos.

The Riddle of Siwa

By DIXON KAYE

Author of "The Mystery of the Siwa"

CHAPTER I

"Then you think you are being watched?"

He asked the question eagerly, with a hungry look at her great beauty. "I am quite certain of it," she answered. "I can come to no other conclusion."

"What are your reasons?" he urged. "I feel very anxious about you."

She gave him a look and a pressure of the hand, which sent the blood tingling through his veins. "You know, of course," she continued, "that father will not allow me to walk in Cairo? I always drive, and I am always accompanied by the dragon."

"Yes, I know that," he said. "A month ago," she continued, "I noticed for the first time that I was being followed."

"By whom?" he asked quickly. "Whenever I stopped at a shop," she answered, "some distance off, and a young officer would get out and stroll unconcernedly in my direction. He never attempted to speak to me, but he was there watching me."

"What was the man like?" he asked disgustedly. "He was obviously an Egyptian," she answered, "and wore the uniform of the King's Bodyguard."

Seymour Barham, the clever young engineer, stamped his foot. "This is intolerable!" he explained. "What was the dragon doing to allow it?"

"For old Ali," she said with a smile, "he is far too old to notice such things, and far too sleepy."

"Does the man follow you still?" Seymour asked.

"No, for the last ten days he has not, but somebody else has."

"Somebody else?" Seymour exclaimed.

"Yes, for some days a woman has followed me in a fine car, but not the same one the officer used."

"What kind of a woman is she, and how is she dressed?" he asked.

"She is dressed in the Harum dress," she answered, "the usual black silk robe and white lace yashmak."

Seymour gave a groan. "The woman is worse than the man," he exclaimed. "On no account have anything to do with her."

"I don't intend to," she answered. "But she makes it very awkward for me, as she follows me into the shops."

Seymour lightly touched her hand. "Eva, dear," he said, "why do you not tell your father?"

She shook her head. "He has too many worries as it is," she answered. "I do not want to add to them. Do you know, Seymour, she continued, "splendid as my father's position is here in Cairo, I often wish he had never accepted it."

She looked away towards the distant desert and the Nile, with the beams of the great eastern moon shimmering upon it.

"But you are surely safe here in the Citadel?" he asked. "If I thought you were not, I would go to Sir Bertram and urge him to send you to England."

Eva laughed. "I think father would be too astonished to speak," she answered. "He would wonder why you took such an interest in me."

Seymour drew closer to her, and gently took her hand.

"Eva," he said, "then why don't you give me the right to go and speak to your father? You know you promised that when I had my next step, I could speak to Sir Bertram Manders, and that step is almost accomplished. Only to-day I received orders to go out into the desert and survey for a new line."

"But you are not going away from Cairo, Seymour?" she asked fearfully.

It was Eva now whose face bore the expression of anxiety and apprehension.

"I fear I am," he answered. "I shall have to go next week. But, of course, I can come into Cairo sometimes."

"Sometimes?" she repeated woefully. "How often will that be?"

"Perhaps once a fortnight," he answered, "perhaps only once a month."

"But come as often as you can," she urged, "won't you, Seymour?"

For answer, he took her in his arms and kissed her.

"And now we must go back to father," she said as she gently disengaged herself. "He will wonder what has become of us, wandering about on the walls of the Citadel late at night."

"Let me speak to your father about our engagement," Seymour urged as they rose; he had got her hand again, and his other arm was round her.

She looked up at him with the white clear moonlight shining full upon her face, and it gave her beautiful features the look of those of a lovely statue.

"Yes, dear," she answered softly, "speak to him if you so earnestly wish it."

"I do earnestly wish it," he added as he slipped his arm through hers and they stroled away towards the big salon of Sir Bertram Manders' quarters in the old palace.

They had reached the old, time-worn flight of steps which led down to the Parade, when Eva gripped her companion's arm.

"Look, Seymour!" she cried. "Look!"

She pointed to a dark patch of shadow, through which a figure was slowly moving. It was obviously a woman clothed in a black flowing robe. It was evidently her intention to cross a broad path of moonlight falling beyond the shadow in which she walked.

She presently emerged into it, at a quicker pace. She wore a white yashmak, but this was thrown back from her face, possibly on account of the heat of the evening.

Halfway across the stretch of moonlight, she halted and looked back, apprehensively, in the direction of Eva and Seymour. For that brief moment her face was uncovered and in the full moonlight.

Uncle Wiggily's Baked Potatoes

Copyright, 1928, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

(By HOWARD K. GARIS)

"Oh, a cold and frosty morning is what I like to spy!" "Then we go adventuring, my little pink nose and I."

So sang Uncle Wiggily one Monday in October and the morning was just as he said, cold and frosty. But the rabbit gentleman did not mind the cold; for he had on a warm fur coat and there was even fur on his long ears.

"Where are you going adventuring, Uncle Wiggily?" asked Mrs. Longtail, the mouse lady, as she hurried back from the field where she had been to gather some grains of wheat that the farmer had dropped when harvesting his crop in the summer.

"Oh, I can't say," answered Mr. Longears, "I shall hop over the fields and through the woods and before I know it may find an adventure just as you found the grains of wheat."

"Very true," squeaked Mrs. Longtail and then she hurried home to give her children, Jollie, Jollie and Squeakie, the cousin mouse, their breakfast, for it was quite early.

"But the early bird catches the worm," said Uncle Wiggily to himself as he hopped along. "Not that I am a bird nor yet do I want to catch a worm. But the earlier I get up the more adventure I may have."

So he hopped along until he came to the field next to the one where the mouse lady had gathered her grains of wheat. In this other field a farmer had grown potatoes in the summer. But Uncle Wiggily knew that, sometimes, when potatoes are dug out of their hills often one or two roll away and become hidden under stones.

"So there may be a few potatoes the farmer has forgotten and doesn't want and I may take them," said the rabbit gentleman. Truly enough he had good luck that morning and he found three large potatoes snugly hidden in a little hole beneath a stone and Jack Frost had not touched them, yet, with his cold fingers, so they were as good as new.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "I shall build me a fire and roast these three potatoes. Then I'll sit down to a flat stump for a table, after my potatoes are roasted and I may have company for my picnic lunch; who knows?"

It did not take the rabbit gentleman long to build a fire and soon the three potatoes were roasting in the hot embers. While they were cooking Uncle Wiggily found some pieces of white birch bark for plates and he gnawed some sharpened sticks for knives and forks, as he had done last week when he made an apple roast.

Pretty soon there was a most delicious smell near the fire and Uncle Wiggily said:

"My potatoes are baked, I will take them out and eat them."

He stuck a pointed stick in each potato and so pulled it out of the hot embers and thus did not burn his paws. The three roast potatoes Uncle Wiggily put on birch bark plates on the flat table stump, and he was about to sit down to eat when he said:

"It is too bad I have no company. Three potatoes are too many for me. I would share them with company if I had visitors."

"Well, here is company!" suddenly exclaimed a voice in the dried bushes

LACQUER

Lacquer is used chiefly for coating polished metal to prevent rust. Before lacquer is applied the surface should be made as bright as possible. A shiny appearance will result only if the surface to be coated is absolutely smooth. Brass soon turns dark and dull if unprotected by lacquer, but retains its beauty when coated with the liquid.

By M. A. Through Special Permission of the Publishers of The Book of Knowledge. Copyright, 1922-26.

Care must be taken to put on lacquer free from dust and air bubbles for these allow the air to get at the metal.

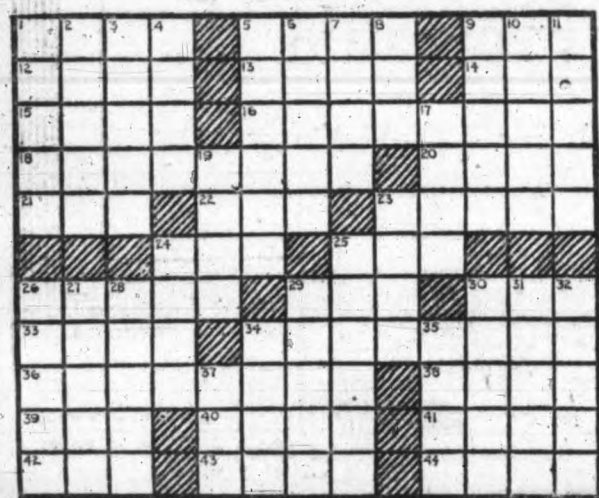

Lacquer should be applied with a camel's hair brush. It may be obtained either colorless or in any of the standard colors.

When the heating of metal was a necessary part of the process, lacquering was attended with considerable difficulty, but new and improved methods have made it quite a simple matter. Lacquers used to be practically the same as the varnish we use on wood, but now they are of a metallic character and very much better adapted for their purpose. (Next: A Wheelbarrow)

To-morrow's Horoscope

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1928

Good luck attends this day, according to astrology, which finds in the horoscope for this date many benefic aspects.

The morning is lucky for all financial transactions. During the afternoon, however, it is an unusually auspicious time for advertising or to seek personal publicity. Women should make the best of to-day's opportunities which may be extraordinary in business or the professions. This should be a happy wedding day mark.

For establishment in a circle of prosperity and progress, however, will not disturb the success of those who might truth under this direction of the stars. Building of business organizations will be marked at this time when the stars assure tremendous development in American enterprises. While that is read as a lucky day it may be depressing to political candidates and others who seek public favor, since there will be a strong tendency toward criticism on the part of the people.

Again gardens come under the best possible planetary government which will encourage the cultivation of the land. Through the winter interior horticulture will become a fad, it is foretold. Florida and California are to vie for supremacy in landscape gardening which will even be more wonderful than anything achieved in Europe, the stars prophesy.

Sewing is to engage the attention of women of fashion. It is forecast, and this is one of the evidences of reactionary forces in the social world. Persons whose birthdate it is may find new standards of life in the coming year. Those past middle age may become exceedingly religious. The subjects of Virgo who are often devoted to material things through their earlier years are capable of supreme spiritual development.

Children born on this day probably will be sensitive and inclined to artistic pursuits. These Virgo folk usually are lovers of nature and enjoy the countryside and the ocean beaches.

Frederick William Jones
Passes After Falling Into
Hold on Ship

Quebec, Oct. 8.—Frederick William Jones, superintendent of the Canadian National Steamships at Montreal, died at the Jeffrey Hale Hospital this week-end from the effects of an accident which occurred on Thursday while he was walking on one of the ships. He slipped and fell into one of the holds of the boat and fractured his skull. In the Jeffrey Hale Hospital, where he was taken, he developed pneumonia, which brought about his death.

Mr. Jones was born in St. John, N.B., seventy years ago. For a time he was a member of the staff of the St. John Bulletin.

Surviving are a widow, one son and three daughters, including Miss Mary Frances Jones of Vancouver.

The purpose of the tour was to become more conversant with western conditions and problems—and more particularly to visit The Peace River country, most of the party never having been there before.

The party returned east with optimistic views regarding the entire country visited.

"I have never seen the country looking better at harvest time," said Mr. Beatty on his return, "and in all my experience I have not previously found so general a feeling of complete confidence in this country and its possibilities as was observed in the cities and districts where we made stops and had an opportunity of talking things over with their representative citizens. More than ever am I impressed with the potentialities of Canada's north land. I think it almost not too much to say that Canada's future lies to the north and that the opportunities already discernible there are a challenge to the oncoming youth of the older parts of the country."

"We had an excellent opportunity of learning this," said Mr. Beatty, "during our visit to the Peace River country which most of us had not previously seen. As a result of that visit we have arranged to take over and operate the E.D. & B.C. Railway, which arrange-

Night; Light List of Passengers

Completing an uneventful voyage from China, Japan and the Philippine Islands, the American Mail liner President Jefferson, berthed at the Rihet pier this morning at 8.30 o'clock with passengers and cargo for this port. The Jefferson arrived at the William Head quarantine station at 6 o'clock, but a heavy tide delayed her progress to the wharf.

Capt. Alvin O. Lustie, commander of the liner, reported nothing of outstanding importance to the eleven-day crossing from Yokohama, outside of a blow last evening as the ship approached the coast.

The passenger list on the Jefferson this trip was exceptionally light. The movement in Oriental travel at this time of the year is westbound. There were only thirty-seven passengers in the first cabin of the liner and 120 in steerage. All the cabin travelers went on to Seattle, while sixteen steerage passengers disembarked here.

NRG LOCAL CARGO

For this port the Jefferson had 350 tons of general freight, most of which was for trans-shipment to Vancouver. For Seattle the liner had 3,800 tons of general, including 2,500 bales of raw silk. General cargo was composed of rice, tea, raton furniture, pineapples, curries and hemp matting.

The Jefferson left for Seattle at 11 o'clock. She will sail outboard to the Orient from Seattle and Victoria on Saturday afternoon, October 20.

The next American Mail liner from the Far East will be the President Lincoln, due on Monday, October 22.

PASSENGERS

On a visit to North America for the first time in sixteen years, J. E. Grove was a passenger on the Jefferson. Mr. Grove is connected with the Burma Oil Company.

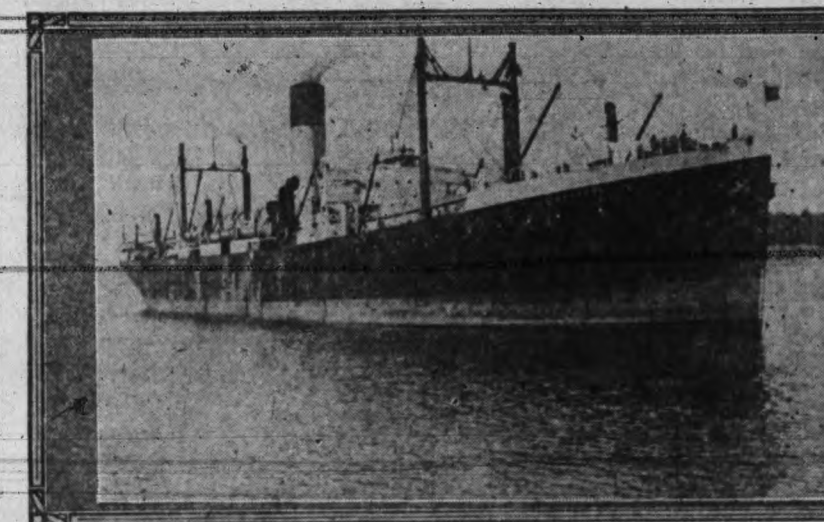

After an extensive stay in China, where he has been studying chemistry, Dr. P. A. Anderson passed through Victoria en route to his home in East Orange, New Jersey. He was accompanied by his son.

B. Guggenheim was another passenger on the liner. He is founder and president of the Japan Export and Import Commission Company, and is returning to his home in New York after an extensive trip to Japan.

Miss Grace Chan of Shanghai is a physician, and is en route to New York city where she will take a position with the Women's and Children's Hospital in that city.

Passengers connected with the United States Bureau of Insular Affairs, returning from Manila included Victor Cabrera, who is en route to Columbia University, New York, to study income tax procedure, and An-

Tyndareus Docks After Good Trip From China Ports

Twenty-four hours ahead of schedule in spite of heavy weather met last night, the Blue Funnel liner Tyndareus docked at the Rihet pier here this morning at 7 o'clock from China and Japan. She brought a heavy passenger list and a good cargo.

Capt. W. Christie, commander of the liner, reported a good trip from Hongkong outside of heavy weather experienced last evening as the ship approached Cape Flattery. The heavy wind which struck Victoria at that time caught the ship, but instead of hindering her progress helped her along. Heavy seas were running at the time, the captain said.

The Tyndareus had nearly 200 passengers, most of whom were traveling in the steerage. Twenty Chinese left at this port, the rest going to Vancouver.

Works Department Awards Contract To Mainland Firm

Vancouver, Oct. 8.—Notification has been received from S. E. O'Brien, secretary of the Federal Public Works Department at Ottawa by the North-western Dredging Company Limited, Standard Bank Building, that the tender for the dredging and removal of Burnaby Shoal off Brockton Point was the lowest of a number received, and the contract has been awarded to the local firm. The job will cost approximately $48,000 and will involve the removal of approximately 181,000 cubic yards of sand, gravel, shell and sandstone.
